County of Los Angeles, Claimant

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The following is the proposed statement of decision for this matter prepared pursuant to section 1188.1 of the Commission’s regulations. As of January 1, 2011, Commission hearings on the adoption of proposed parameters and guidelines are conducted under article 7 of the Commission’s regulations.<sup>2</sup> Article 7 hearings are quasi-judicial hearings. The Commission is required to adopt a decision that is correct as a matter of law and based on substantial evidence in the record.<sup>3</sup> Oral or written testimony is offered under oath or affirmation in article 7 hearings.<sup>4</sup>

I. Summary of the Mandate

These proposed parameters and guidelines pertain to the Interagency Child Abuse and Neglect Investigation Reports test claim (00-TC-22), adopted December 6, 2007. Based on the filing date of the test claim, the period of reimbursement begins on July 1, 1999, or later for specified activities added by subsequent statutes. Some of the activities, as explained below, end as of January 1, 2012, due to a subsequent change in law.

The test claim addresses amendments to the Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act (CANRA). The act, as amended:

- Requires the reporting of suspected child abuse or neglect by certain individuals, identified by their profession as having frequent contact with children;
- Provides rules and procedures for local agencies receiving such reports;
- Requires cross-reporting among law enforcement and other child protective agencies, and to licensing agencies and district attorneys' offices;
- Requires reporting to the Department of Justice (DOJ) when a report of suspected child abuse was "not unfounded." An active investigation is required to determine whether the report is "not unfounded" before a report can be forwarded to the DOJ. As of January 1, 2012, the act no longer requires law enforcement agencies to report to the DOJ, and therefore no longer mandates law enforcement agencies to investigate whether the report is "not unfounded." Additionally, beginning January 1, 2012, only "substantiated" reports are required to be filed with DOJ by other agencies;
- Imposes additional cross-reporting and recordkeeping duties in the event of a child's death from abuse or neglect;
- Requires local agencies and the DOJ to keep records of investigations for a minimum of 10 years;
- Requires local agencies and DOJ to notify suspected child abusers that they have been listed in the Child Abuse Central Index;
- Imposes certain due process protections owed to persons listed in the index, and specifies certain other situations in which a person must be notified of his or her listing in the index.

The requirements imposed on individuals, termed "mandated reporters," are not unique to government, but rather are generally applicable to all persons described in the statute. Mandated reporters are required to report to "an agency specified in section 11165.9," whenever the mandated reporter knows or reasonably suspects that a child has been the victim of abuse or severe neglect. These requirements are imposed upon individuals by virtue of their vocation and professional training, irrespective of whether they are employed by local government. Therefore, as discussed in the test claim statement of decision, those requirements do not constitute a state-mandated new program or higher level of service.<sup>5</sup> Additionally, some duties found in the test claim statutes are not new, or are otherwise excluded from reimbursement, pursuant to the Commission's findings in the test claim statement of decision. Furthermore, maintaining the Child Abuse Central Index (CACI), and other duties imposed upon DOJ, are not reimbursable activities because they affect state government, rather than local government.

But the following corollary duties attendant upon city and county law enforcement agencies, county welfare departments, and county probation departments, as specified, are unique to local government, and were determined to constitute a reimbursable state-mandated program pursuant to article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution:

- For agencies authorized to receive reports from mandated reporters of suspected child abuse to:
  - Refer those reports to the correct agency when the recipient agency lacks jurisdiction;
  - Cross-report to other local agencies with concurrent jurisdiction and to the district attorneys' offices;
  - Report to licensing agencies;
  - Make additional reports in the case of a child's death from abuse or neglect;
  - Distribute the standardized forms to mandated reporters;
  - Investigate reports of suspected child abuse for purposes of preparing and submitting the state "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice;
  - Forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect which is determined to be substantiated or inconclusive;
  - Notify suspected abusers of listing in the Child Abuse Central Index; and
  - Retain records, as specified.

A small number of activities were also approved for county licensing agencies and district attorneys' offices, as provided.

II. Procedural History

The Commission adopted the test claim statement of decision, approving partial reimbursement for the activities described above, on December 6, 2007, by a vote of 7 to 0.<sup>6</sup> The adopted statement of decision was issued December 19, 2007, with instructions for the claimant to file proposed parameters and guidelines within 30 days. The claimant submitted the first proposed parameters and guidelines on January 14, 2008. The claimant sought to develop a reasonable reimbursement methodology (RRM) to address some of the task-repetitive activities performed by law enforcement and county welfare agencies. After nearly two years of prehearings and extensions of time it was determined that the initial proposed parameters and guidelines did not describe the reimbursable activities consistently with the surveys that were being circulated to evaluate costs and form the proposed unit rate RRMs.<sup>7</sup> Rather than re-drafting the surveys and soliciting the results anew, the claimant submitted revised proposed parameters and guidelines, on January 28, 2010, attempting to describe the reimbursable activities more in line with the information requested in the surveys.

<sup>7</sup> Exhibit X, Outcome of Prehearing and Tentative Hearing and Comment Schedules, Issued by Commission staff, November 12, 2009.

On March 18, 2010, the Department of Social Services (CDSS) submitted written comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>8</sup> On March 30, 2010 the Department of Finance (DOF) submitted written comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>9</sup> On April 1, 2010, the State Controller's Office (SCO) submitted written comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>10</sup>

III. Position of the Parties

A. Claimant's Position and Proposed Parameters and Guidelines

The claimant's proposed parameters and guidelines offer a combination of actual cost reimbursement for some activities and standard time RRM's for others. The proposed parameters and guidelines provide for actual cost reimbursement for the activities expressly approved in the statement of decision and activities alleged to be reasonably necessary to complete those activities, with two exceptions. Standard time RRM's are proposed for the following activities:

- For law enforcement to complete an investigation of suspected child abuse to determine whether a report is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive. Multiple standard time RRM's are proposed by the claimant based upon the level of investigation required;<sup>11</sup> and
- For county welfare departments to complete certain reports and notice requirements.<sup>12</sup>

The standard times RRM's proposed for law enforcement purport to address the costs of investigative activities approved in the test claim statement of decision. These RRM's for investigative activities are proposed only for law enforcement agencies, and not for costs and activities of other agencies subject to the mandate. The standard times were developed on the basis of survey information collected from Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department personnel, and propose reimbursement for the full scope of investigative activities conducted by law enforcement agencies when inquiring into reports of suspected child abuse. Standard time RRM's are proposed for four levels of investigations, based on the seriousness of the underlying case of suspected child abuse, and the progress of the investigation, Level 1 being the lowest level. Claimant proposes that Level 5 investigations; which are the most complex, high profile, and expensive, be reimbursed through actual cost claiming.

In cases where the report is facially inaccurate, or where a preliminary investigation results in a finding that no abuse has occurred, standard times are proposed for the recordkeeping and investigative activities necessary to report to DOJ, or to decide not to report to DOJ; these cases are described as levels 1 and 2, and include receiving and reviewing the initial report, and tasking a patrol officer to conduct interviews and preliminary investigation, concluding with closure of the case. In cases where some evidence is adduced that necessitates further investigation, and that may ultimately result in an arrest and conviction, those activities are categorized as levels 3 and 4 investigations. Levels 3 and 4 include the collection of physical evidence, follow-up interviews, and making an arrest. Level 5 investigations are cases in which there is suspected child abuse that is high profile or high volume, such as in a religious institution, or child care facility, or a school. The claimants propose applying the standard times to each category of case, as reported by each eligible claimant, and multiplying the standard times by the hourly pay rates for each law enforcement agency.

The standard times RRM's proposed for county welfare agencies to prepare and submit certain reports and satisfy certain notice requirements were developed on the basis of information from CDSS detailing the procedures required of individual county welfare agencies, and surveys of eligible agencies in Los Angeles County, taken to determine how much time is spent on each activity. The standard times are proposed for the completion of the Child Abuse Summary Report form, the Suspected Child Abuse Report form, the Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing form, filing copies of the forms, and responding to Department of Justice requests. The standard times are proposed to be applied to the number of these activities completed, multiplied by the hourly pay rates for eligible county welfare departments. The proposed RRM's are silent regarding reimbursement for probation departments which are sometimes required to perform some of these activities.

B. Department of Social Services Position

CDSS urges the Commission to reject the proposed parameters and guidelines, including the proposed law enforcement RRM, "because the activities described in it are not related to or required by CANRA." CDSS argues at length that CANRA does not give rise to any affirmative duty to investigate child abuse, and that in any event the investigative activities called for in the claimant's revised proposed parameters and guidelines reaches deep into the realm of criminal investigative activities. CDSS argues that local law enforcement has a responsibility to investigate suspected child abuse, but that responsibility is not grounded in the provisions of CANRA. CDSS's comments do not discuss the activities and the standard times proposed for county welfare departments, instead addressing only the activities and standard times proposed for law enforcement.<sup>13</sup>

C. Department of Finance Position

DOF opposes the adoption of the claimant's revised proposed parameters and guidelines, on the ground that "the proposed RRM inappropriately includes the totality of its law enforcement response to reports of child abuse, and all activities leading up to a full criminal prosecution." DOF argues that "the activities in levels 3, 4, and 5 are not requirements of CANRA but a more extensive investigation needed for the criminal justice system to apprehend and prosecute a criminal and therefore should not be reimbursable." DOF urges instead that "only those activities directly related to an investigation conducted to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or neglect is unfounded, substantiated, or inconclusive, should be reimbursable."<sup>14</sup>

D. State Controller's Office Position

SCO offers comments and suggestions on the claimant's proposed parameters and guidelines, including, "the activities specified in Section IV B [Reimbursable Activities] do not clearly identify the mandated activities in the Statement of Decision adopted by the Commission on December 19, 2007." SCO requests that the activities to which standard times (i.e., the RRM) will apply should be correlated to the reimbursable activities specified in the statement of decision. SCO also suggests that the activities should be segregated between one-time and on-going activities. And, SCO recommends that only an RRM rate or actual cost methodology be applied to each activity, not "a combination of actual cost and or standard cost methodologies," as proposed in the claimant's revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>15</sup>

IV. DISCUSSION

A. Period of Reimbursement

Subsequent amendments to the test claim statutes have ended some activities for county law enforcement agencies and limited activities for all other county departments affected by this law. The period of reimbursement language for each activity reflects those changes.

B. Reimbursable Activities

The claimant has requested a number of reasonably necessary activities, including annually updating policies and procedures to implement the mandate; periodically, meeting with other agencies to coordinate cross-reporting; annually training "ICAN staff" in DOJ requirements; developing, updating, or obtaining computer software and equipment for cross-reporting; testing and evaluation costs to make an evidentiary finding; and due process costs. Staff finds that the Commission has frequently approved reimbursement for a one-time update of policies and procedures, but there is not substantial evidence in the record to support annual updates to policies and procedures. Staff also finds that a one-time development of due process procedures is reimbursable, based on intervening case law finding significant due process implications of an individual's listing in the Child Abuse Central Index, and no then-existing mechanism to remove an individual's name once erroneously listed. Staff finds that the remaining proposed reasonably necessary activities are not supported by evidence in the record.

Staff finds that distributing the child abuse reporting form adopted by the Department of Justice (currently known as the "Suspected Child Abuse Report" Form SS 8572) to mandated reporters was approved in the test claim statement of decision, and is approved in the parameters and guidelines without substantial analysis.

Staff finds that accepting reports of suspected child abuse from mandated reporters, and cross-reporting to other child protective agencies, county licensing agencies, and district attorneys' offices, were approved for reimbursement in the test claim statement of decision. These activities are approved in the parameters and guidelines without substantial analysis.

Staff finds that the Commission approved, in the test claim statement of decision, reimbursement for completing an investigation to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive, for purposes of preparing and submitting the state “Child Abuse Investigation Report” Form SS 8583, and forwarding to DOJ a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect which is determined to be substantiated or inconclusive. The claimant has requested reimbursement for the full scope of investigative activities conducted by law enforcement agencies, but staff finds that the mandate only requires an investigation sufficient to determine whether a report is unfounded, substantiated, or inconclusive, and sufficient to prepare and submit the Form SS 8583. Furthermore, staff finds that the mandate to investigate impacts all agencies subject to the mandate equally, and law enforcement agencies should not be permitted to claim reimbursement for activities in excess of those mandated upon county welfare or county probation departments. Staff also finds that because employees of child protective agencies subject to the mandate to investigate and forward reports are also mandated reporters, and because a mandated reporter’s duties are not reimbursable under the test claim statement of decision, the agency may not claim reimbursement for investigative activities undertaken by its employees pursuant to their duty to make mandated reports and to complete the Form SS 8572. Where, in a particular case, the mandated reporter completing the Form SS 8572 is an employee of the agency investigating to determine whether to prepare and submit a Form SS 8583, reimbursement is not required if the investigation required to complete the Form SS 8572 pursuant to Penal Code section 11166(a) is also sufficient to make the determination required under section 11169(a), and sufficient to complete the essential information items required on the Form SS 8583, pursuant to Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 (Register 98, No. 29). Finally, staff finds that the mandate to investigate, for law enforcement agencies only, is ended, as of January 1, 2012. For all other child protection agencies, only “substantiated” reports shall be forwarded to DOJ beginning January 1, 2012, and not “inconclusive,” or “unfounded” reports, pursuant to amendments to section 11169 effected by Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717).

Staff finds that the test claim statement of decision approved a number of notice requirements, including providing notice to a suspected abuser that he or she has been listed in the index, upon the occurrence of certain triggering events; providing notice to the mandated reporter of any action taken by the agency; and obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, licensing, or placement of a child, when a report is received from the Child Abuse Central Index. These notice requirements are approved for reimbursement with only clarifying analysis and alterations to the language of the approved activity.

Staff finds that the test claim statement of decision approved reimbursement for record retention requirements imposed by the test claim statutes. Those requirements are approved in the parameters and guidelines without substantial analysis, except as necessary to clarify that agencies had prior record retention requirements derived from other provisions of state law, and reimbursement is required only for the higher level of service required by the test claim statute.

Staff finds that the test claim statement of decision did not address the potential due process implications of an individual’s name being included in the Child Abuse Central Index, but that intervening case law has established that the index does implicate due process considerations. Therefore, the parameters and guidelines include reimbursement for the ongoing provision of due process protections to individuals seeking to challenge their listing in the CACI, including notice and a hearing.

Finally, staff addresses the completion of forms and recordkeeping requirements proposed for reimbursement by the claimant, and finds that the activities requested are either expressly approved elsewhere in the parameters and guidelines, or are reasonably necessary, or are not supported by evidence in the record.

C. Claim Preparation and Submission

The claimant has proposed standard times RRM for the reimbursement of law enforcement agencies conducting investigative activities, and for the reimbursement of county welfare agencies preparing forms and filing copies of forms required by the test claim statutes. The standard times are developed on the basis of survey information collected from agencies charged with the reimbursable activities under the test claim statutes. Staff finds that development of an RRM does not require a particular type of information or basis, but that the substantial evidence standard must be satisfied, and the RRM must reasonably represent the costs incurred by claimants. Here, the claimant has not submitted sufficient admissible evidence upon which to make a finding approving the RRM.

V. Staff Recommendation

Staff recommends that the Commission adopt the proposed statement of decision on the parameters and guidelines and the attached proposed parameters and guidelines. Staff further recommends that the Commission authorize staff to make non-substantive, technical corrections to the statement of decision and parameters and guidelines following the Commission hearing on this matter.

(Adopted April 19, 2013)

STATEMENT OF DECISION

The Commission on State Mandates (Commission) adopted this statement of decision and parameters and guidelines during a regularly scheduled hearing on April 19, 2013. [Witness list will be included in the final statement of decision.]

The law applicable to the Commission's determination of a reimbursable state-mandated program is article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution, Government Code section 17500 et seq., and related case law.

The Commission adopted the parameters and guidelines and statement of decision by a vote of [Vote count will be included in the final statement of decision].

I. SUMMARY OF THE MANDATE

These proposed parameters and guidelines pertain to the Interagency Child Abuse and Neglect Investigation Reports (ICAN) test claim (00-TC-22), adopted December 6, 2007. Based on the filing date of the test claim, the period of reimbursement begins on July 1, 1999, or later for specified activities added by subsequent statutes. Some of the activities, as explained below, end as of January 1, 2012, due to a subsequent change in law.

The test claim addresses amendments to the Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act (CANRA). The act, as amended, provides for reporting of suspected child abuse or neglect by certain individuals, identified by their profession as having frequent contact with children. The Commission found that Penal Code sections 11165.9, 11166, 11166.2, 11166.9, 11168 (formerly 11161.7), 11169, and 11170, as added or amended by Statutes 1977, chapter 958, Statutes 1980, chapter 1071, Statutes 1981, chapter 435, Statutes 1982, chapters 162 and 905, Statutes 1984, chapters 1423 and 1613, Statutes 1985, chapter 1598, Statutes 1986, chapters 1289 and 1496, Statutes 1987, chapters 82, 531 and 1459, Statutes 1988, chapters 269, 1497 and 1580, Statutes 1989, chapter 153, Statutes 1990, chapters 650, 1330, 1363 and 1603, Statutes 1992, chapters 163, 459 and 1338, Statutes 1993, chapters 219 and 510, Statutes 1996, chapters 1080 and 1081, Statutes 1997, chapters 842, 843 and 844, Statutes 1999, chapters 475 and 1012, and Statutes 2000, chapter 916; and executive orders California Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 as added by Register 98, No. 29, and "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583, mandate new programs or higher levels of service within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution, and impose costs mandated by the state pursuant to Government Code section 17514, for cities and counties for the following specific new activities:

Distributing the Suspected Child Abuse Report Form:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or county welfare department shall:

- Distribute the child abuse reporting form adopted by the Department of Justice (currently known as the "Suspected Child Abuse Report" Form SS 8572) to mandated reporters. (Pen. Code, § 11168, formerly § 11161.7.)<sup>18</sup>

<sup>18</sup> As added by Statutes 1980, chapter 1071 and amended by Statutes 2000, chapter 916. Derived from former Penal Code section 11161.7, as amended by Statutes 1977, chapter 958.

Reporting Between Local Departments

Accepting and Referring Initial Child Abuse Reports when a Department Lacks Jurisdiction:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or county welfare department shall:

- Transfer a call electronically or immediately refer the case by telephone, fax, or electronic transmission, to an agency with proper jurisdiction, whenever the department lacks subject matter or geographical jurisdiction over an incoming report of suspected child abuse or neglect. (Pen. Code, § 11165.9.)<sup>19</sup>

Cross-Reporting of Suspected Child Abuse or Neglect from County Welfare and Probation Departments to the Law Enforcement Agency with Jurisdiction and the District Attorney's Office:

A county probation department shall:

- Report by telephone immediately, or as soon as practically possible, to the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the case, to the agency given the responsibility for investigation of cases under Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to the district attorney's office every known or suspected instance of child abuse, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.6, except acts or omissions coming within subdivision (b) of section 11165.2, or reports made pursuant to section 11165.13 based on risk to a child which relates solely to the inability of the parent to provide the child with regular care due to the parent's substance abuse, which shall be reported only to the county welfare department. (Pen. Code, § 11166, subd. (h), now subd. (j).)<sup>20</sup>
- Send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident to any agency to which it is required to make a telephone report under this subdivision.

As of January 1, 2001, initial reports may be made by fax or electronic transmission, instead of by telephone, and will satisfy the requirement for a written report within 36 hours. (Pen. Code, § 11166, subd. (h), now subd. (j).)<sup>21</sup>

A county welfare department shall:

- Report by telephone immediately, or as soon as practically possible, to the agency given the responsibility for investigation of cases under Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to the district attorney's office every known or suspected instance of child abuse, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.6, except acts or omissions coming within subdivision (b) of section 11165.2, or reports made pursuant to section 11165.13 based on risk to a child which relates solely to the inability of the parent to provide the child with regular care due to the parent's substance abuse, which shall be reported only to the county welfare department.

This activity does not include making an initial report of child abuse and neglect from a county welfare department to the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the case, which was required under prior law to be made "without delay." (Pen. Code, § 11166, subd. (h), now subd. (j).)<sup>22</sup>

- Send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident to any agency, including the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the case, to which it is required to make a telephone report under this subdivision.

As of January 1, 2001, initial reports may be made by fax or electronic transmission, instead of by telephone, and will satisfy the requirement for a written report within 36 hours. (Pen. Code, § 11166, subd. (h), now subd. (j).)<sup>23</sup>

Cross-Reporting of Suspected Child Abuse or Neglect from the Law Enforcement Agency to the County Welfare and Institutions Code Section 300 Agency, County Welfare, and the District Attorney's Office:

A city or county law enforcement agency shall:

- Report by telephone immediately, or as soon as practically possible, to the agency given responsibility for investigation of cases under Welfare and Institutions Code section 300 and to the district attorney's office every known or suspected instance of child abuse reported to it, except acts or omissions coming within Penal Code section 11165.2, subdivision (b), which shall be reported only to the county welfare department. ### Record Retention

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, or county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports shall:

- Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of eight years for counties and cities (a higher level of service above the two-year record retention requirement pursuant to Gov. Code §§ 26202 (cities) and 34090 (counties).) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is received within the first 10-year period, the report shall be maintained for an additional 10 years. (Pen. Code, § 11169, subd. A county welfare department shall:

- Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of seven years for welfare records (a higher level of service above the three-year record retention requirement pursuant to Welf. & Inst. Code, § 10851.) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is received within the first 10-year period, the report shall be maintained for an additional 10 years. (Pen. Code, § 11169, subd. (c).)<sup>41</sup>

The Commission found that requirements imposed on individuals, termed “mandated reporters,” are not unique to government, but rather are generally applicable to all persons described in the statute. Mandated reporters, including physicians, teachers, social workers, law enforcement personnel, and members of a number of other professions, are required to report to “an agency specified in section 11165.9,” whenever the mandated reporter knows or reasonably suspects that a child has been the victim of abuse or severe neglect.<sup>42</sup> These requirements are imposed upon individuals by virtue of their vocation and professional training, irrespective of whether they are employed by local government. Therefore, as discussed in the test claim statement of decision, those requirements do not constitute a state-mandated new program or higher level of service.<sup>43</sup> Additionally, some duties found in the test claim statutes are not new, or are otherwise excluded from reimbursement, pursuant to the Commission’s findings in the test claim statement of decision. Furthermore, maintaining the Child Abuse Central Index, and other duties imposed upon the Department of Justice, are not reimbursable activities because they affect state government, rather than local government.

But the corollary duties attendant upon city and county law enforcement agencies, county welfare departments, and county probation departments, where authorized, to receive reports from mandated reporters of suspected child abuse; to refer those reports to the correct agency when the recipient agency lacks jurisdiction; to cross-report to other local agencies with concurrent jurisdiction and to the district attorneys' offices; to report to licensing agencies; to make additional reports in the case of a child's death from abuse or neglect; to distribute the standardized forms to mandated reporters; to investigate reports of suspected child abuse to determine whether to report to the Department of Justice; to notify suspected abusers of listing in the Child Abuse Central Index; and to retain records, as specified, are unique to local government, and were determined to constitute a reimbursable state-mandated program pursuant to article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution. A small number of activities were also approved for county licensing agencies and district attorneys' offices, as provided.

II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

The underlying test claim was filed on June 29, 2001, alleging that amendments to California's mandatory child abuse reporting laws impose a reimbursable state-mandated program upon local law enforcement, county welfare departments, and county probation departments. Medical professionals had been required to report suspected child abuse to law enforcement or child welfare authorities since 1963, but the law was expanded over time to include more professionals, and in 1980 the law was reenacted and amended as CANRA, and included new duties upon local government when receiving reports of suspected child abuse from mandated reporters.<sup>44</sup> The reenactment of the law, and subsequent amendments, were the subject of the test claim. The Commission partially approved the test claim on December 6, 2007, by a vote of 7 to 0.<sup>45</sup>

The adopted statement of decision was issued December 19, 2007, with instructions for the claimant to file proposed parameters and guidelines within 30 days. The claimant submitted the first proposed parameters and guidelines on January 14, 2008. On December 2, 2008, the claimant requested a prehearing conference on the draft parameters and guidelines.<sup>46</sup> Pursuant to the prehearing on December 11, 2008, the parties agreed that they would develop a reasonable reimbursement methodology (RRM) and submit the proposal to the Commission by April 1, 2009.<sup>47</sup> On March 10, 2009, the claimant submitted a request for a second prehearing.<sup>48</sup> Pursuant to the second prehearing, Commission staff issued proposed schedules for the parties resulting in a tentative hearing date between September 2009 and January 2010.<sup>49</sup> When the claimant failed to submit the proposed RRM parameters and guidelines within the proposed schedules, Commission staff warned, in a letter dated August 19, 2009, that “if a proposed reimbursement methodology is not submitted by September 1, 2009,” the Commission would proceed in adopting an actual cost parameters and guidelines at the December 2009 hearing.<sup>50</sup> The claimant requested a third prehearing, which was set for October 29, 2009.<sup>51</sup> Pursuant to the third prehearing, it was determined that the initial proposed parameters and guidelines did not describe the reimbursable activities consistently with the surveys that were being circulated to evaluate costs and form the proposed unit rate RRM parameters.<sup>52</sup> As a result, the claimant submitted revised proposed parameters and guidelines, on January 28, 2010, attempting to describe the reimbursable activities more in line with the information requested in the surveys.

On March 11, 2010, the Department of Social Services (CDSS) requested an extension of time to file comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>53</sup> On March 12, 2010, the State Controller’s Office (SCO) requested an extension of time to file comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>54</sup> On March 18, 2010, CDSS submitted written comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>55</sup> On March 30, 2010 the Department of Finance (DOF) submitted written comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>56</sup> On April 1, 2010, SCO submitted written comments on the revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>57</sup>

A. Claimant’s Position and Proposed Parameters and Guidelines

The claimant’s proposed parameters and guidelines offer a combination of actual cost reimbursement for some activities and standard times-based RRM parameters for others. The claimant proposes actual cost reimbursement for most activities expressly approved in the statement of decision, and most activities alleged to be reasonably necessary to complete those activities, except that standard time RRM parameters are proposed for the following activities:

- For law enforcement to complete an investigation of suspected child abuse to determine whether a report is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive. Multiple standard time RRM's are proposed by the claimant based upon the level of investigation required;<sup>58</sup> and

- For county welfare departments to complete certain reports and comply with specified notice requirements.<sup>59</sup>

The activities proposed for reimbursement by the claimant, and the underlying the RRM's, are based on declarations in the record detailing the procedures that Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department employs to investigate reports of suspected child abuse. The standard times were developed on the basis of survey information collected from Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department personnel, and provide reimbursement for the full scope of investigative activities conducted by law enforcement agencies when inquiring into reports of suspected child abuse. Standard time RRM's are proposed for four levels of investigations, based on the seriousness of the underlying case of suspected child abuse, and the progress of the investigation, Level 1 being the lowest level. Claimant proposes that Level 5 investigations; which are the most complex, high profile, and expensive, be reimbursed through actual cost claiming.

In cases where the report is facially inaccurate, or where a preliminary investigation results in a finding that no abuse has occurred, standard times are proposed for the recordkeeping and investigative activities necessary to receive and track the report, and to decide not to forward the report to DOJ; these cases are described as levels 1 and 2, and include receiving and reviewing the initial report, and, where necessary, tasking a patrol officer to conduct interviews and preliminary investigation, concluding with closure of the case. Cases in which some evidence is adduced that necessitates further investigation, and in which an arrest and conviction may result, are categorized as levels 3 and 4 investigations. Levels 3 and 4 include the collection of physical evidence, follow-up interviews, and making an arrest. Level 5 investigations are cases in which there is suspected child abuse that is high profile or high volume, such as in a religious institution, or child care facility, or a school. The claimants propose applying one of the standard times to each category of case, as reported by each eligible claimant, and multiplying the standard times by the hourly pay rates for each law enforcement agency.

The standard times RRM's proposed for county welfare agencies to prepare and submit certain reports and satisfy certain notice requirements were developed on the basis of information from CDSS detailing the procedures required of individual county welfare agencies, and surveys of eligible agencies in Los Angeles County taken to determine how much time is spent on each activity. The standard times are proposed for the completion of the Child Abuse Summary Report form, the Suspected Child Abuse Report form, the Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing form, filing copies of the forms, and responding to Department of Justice requests. The standard times are proposed to be applied to the number of these activities completed, multiplied by the hourly pay rates for eligible county welfare departments. The proposed RRM's are silent regarding reimbursement for probation departments that may perform some of the activities proposed for the RRM's.

B. CDSS Position

CDSS urges the Commission to reject the proposed parameters and guidelines, including the proposed law enforcement RRM, “because the activities described in it are not related to or required by CANRA.” CDSS argues at length that CANRA does not give rise to any affirmative duty to investigate child abuse, and that in any event the investigative activities called for in the claimant’s revised proposed parameters and guidelines reach deep into the realm of criminal investigative activities. CDSS argues that local law enforcement has a responsibility to investigate suspected child abuse, but that responsibility is not grounded in the provisions of CANRA. CDSS does not discuss the county welfare standard times, and the activities involved, in its comments, addressing only the activities and proposed standard times for law enforcement.<sup>60</sup>

C. DOF Position

DOF opposes the adoption of the claimant’s revised proposed parameters and guidelines on the ground that “the proposed RRM inappropriately includes the totality of its law enforcement response to reports of child abuse, and all activities leading up to a full criminal prosecution.” DOF argues that “the activities in levels 3, 4, and 5 are not requirements of CANRA but a more extensive investigation needed for the criminal justice system to apprehend and prosecute a criminal and therefore should not be reimbursable.” DOF urges instead that “only those activities directly related to an investigation conducted to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or neglect is unfounded, substantiated, or inconclusive, should be reimbursable.”<sup>61</sup>

D. SCO Position

SCO offers comments and suggestions on the proposed parameters and guidelines, including, “the activities specified in Section IV B [Reimbursable Activities] do not clearly identify the mandated activities in the Statement of Decision adopted by the Commission on December 19, 2007.” SCO requests that the activities to which the standard time RRMs will apply be correlated to the reimbursable activities specified in the statement of decision. SCO also suggests that the activities should be segregated between one-time and on-going activities. And, SCO recommends that only an RRM rate or actual cost methodology be applied to each activity, not “a combination of actual cost and or standard cost methodologies,” as proposed in the claimant’s revised proposed parameters and guidelines.<sup>62</sup>

IV. COMMISSION FINDINGS

Commission staff has reviewed the claimant’s proposed parameters and guidelines and comments received. Non-substantive, technical changes, for purposes of clarification, consistency, and conformity to the statement of decision and statutory language have been made, and are not addressed in this analysis. The following analysis addresses only substantive changes to the activities approved in the statement of decision, and to the claimant’s proposed parameters and guidelines, and incorporates changes to the parameters and guidelines proposed by the parties, where appropriate. The analysis also addresses whether the evidence in the record supports the adoption of the proposed RRM's.

A. Substantive Changes in Law Affecting the Period of Reimbursement for Some Activities (Section III. of Proposed Parameters and Guidelines)

Government Code section 17557(e) states that a test claim shall be submitted on or before June 30 following a given fiscal year to establish eligibility for that fiscal year. The County of Los Angeles filed the test claim on June 29, 2001, establishing eligibility for reimbursement for the 1999-2000 fiscal year. Therefore, costs incurred on or after July 1, 1999 are reimbursable under this test claim, for statutes in effect before July 1, 1999, or later, as specified, for statutes effective after July 1, 1999.

Here, the period of reimbursement must also take account of the subsequent amendments made to the test claim statutes that ended, or limited, some of the reimbursable activities. Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717) amended Penal Code section 11169 to provide, in pertinent part:

(a) An agency specified in Section 11165.9 shall forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect that is determined to be substantiated, other than cases coming within subdivision (b) of Section 11165.2. An agency shall not forward a report to the Department of Justice unless it has conducted an active investigation and determined that the report is substantiated, as defined in Section 11165.12. If a report has previously been filed which subsequently proves to be not substantiated, the Department of Justice shall be notified in writing of that fact and shall not retain the report. The reports required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice and may be sent by fax or electronic transmission. An agency specified in Section 11165.9 receiving a written report from another agency specified in Section 11165.9 shall not send that report to the Department of Justice.

(b) On and after January 1, 2012, a police department or sheriff's department specified in Section 11165.9 shall no longer forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of any case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect.

(c) At the time an agency specified in Section 11165.9 forwards a report in writing to the Department of Justice pursuant to subdivision (a), the agency shall also notify in writing the known or suspected child abuser that he or she has been reported to the Child Abuse Central Index (CACI). The notice required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice. The requirements of this subdivision shall apply with respect to reports forwarded to the department on or after the date on which this subdivision becomes operative.<sup>63</sup>

Prior to the 2011 amendment, this section required agencies specified in section 11165.9<sup>64</sup> to forward to DOJ, after investigation, reports of suspected child abuse or neglect that were determined to be “not unfounded.”<sup>65</sup> By changing the requirement from those cases that were “not unfounded,” to only those that are “substantiated,” the amended section now excludes an “inconclusive” case, meaning that forwarding to DOJ “inconclusive” reports of suspected child abuse or neglect is no longer reimbursable as of the effective date of the amendment, January 1, 2012.<sup>66</sup>

The new section also provides that law enforcement agencies “shall no longer” forward reports of suspected child abuse to DOJ, even if those reports are substantiated. Therefore, for law enforcement agencies only, reimbursement for forwarding reports of suspected child abuse to DOJ is no longer mandated as of January 1, 2012. This change was intended, in part, to provide cost savings to the state by limiting the mandate, including ending reimbursement for all law enforcement investigations required to satisfy the reporting requirements.<sup>67</sup> However, AB 717 did not change any other statutory or common law requirements imposed upon police officers, as mandated reporters, to investigate child abuse pursuant to Penal Code section 11166. The Commission, in its statement of decision on the test claim, specifically found that section 11166 did not impose a reimbursable mandate on local government since the duty of a mandated reporter is not unique to government.<sup>68</sup> Therefore, beginning January 1, 2012, for law enforcement only, the activity of investigating child abuse, for purposes of preparing the report to DOJ, is no longer a reimbursable activity.

Note also that subdivision (c) requires that “At the time an agency specified in Section 11165.9 forwards a report [to DOJ]...the agency shall also notify in writing the known or <sup>64</sup> Penal Code section 11165.9 lists the agencies to which the remaining sections of the Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act apply: city and county police and sheriff’s departments, except school district police or security departments; county welfare departments; and county probation departments where designated by the county to receive reports of suspected child abuse from mandated reporters. (Stats. 2000, ch. 916).

<sup>67</sup> See Exhibit X, AB 717 Senate Committee Analysis [“By deleting the requirement to report inconclusive reports, as well as limiting CACI reporting agencies to child welfare and probation departments, the provisions of this bill will result in future state-reimbursable cost savings due to reduced mandated reporting workload on local reporting agencies”].

<sup>68</sup> See e.g. Alejo v. City of Alhambra, 75 Cal.App.4th 1180, addressing the duty of a law enforcement officer, as a mandated reporter, to investigate alleged child abuse reported to the officer; see also 11165.14, addressing the duty of law enforcement to investigate a child abuse complaint filed by a parent or guardian of a pupil with a school or an agency specified in Section 11165.9 against a school employee or other person that commits an act of child abuse against a pupil at a schoolsite. However, these investigative requirements have not been found to impose reimbursable state-mandated programs.

suspected child abuser that he or she has been reported to the Child Abuse Central Index (CACI).” Because this notice requirement is triggered by the report forwarded to DOJ, and law enforcement agencies are no longer required to forward reports to DOJ pursuant to section 11169(b), law enforcement agencies are also no longer required to notify the suspected child abuser that he or she has been listed in CACI, at the time a report is forwarded. And, because only “substantiated” reports, rather than all reports that are “not unfounded” are now required to be forwarded to DOJ, the requirement for other agencies subject to the mandate to inform the suspected child abuser of the listing in the index will arise with diminished frequency. However, a number of other notice requirements approved in the test claim statement of decision remain unaffected by the amendments made by Statutes 2011, chapter 468. The remaining activities relating to notice requirements approved by the Commission arise from section 11170, and are not tied to or triggered by the initial forwarding of a report to DOJ. These activities are unaffected by the substantive amendments to the test claim statutes; the code section from which these activities arise was not substantively altered by Statutes 2011, chapter 468. Furthermore, these activities are triggered by events other than the initial listing in the CACI or initial forwarding of a report to DOJ, which were substantively altered by Statutes 2011, chapter 468. The remaining notice requirements are therefore included in the parameters and guidelines without further analysis.

Based on the foregoing analysis and discussion, the language of Section III, Period of Reimbursement, is altered to reflect the ending of certain activities, as of January 1, 2012. Additionally, for purposes of clarity, activities that are ended by subsequent amendments are specified in Section IV, Reimbursable Activities.

B. Reimbursable Activities (Section IV. of Proposed Parameters and Guidelines)

The majority of reimbursable activities included in the parameters and guidelines are drawn directly from the test claim statement of decision, and are approved without substantial analysis. However, for purposes of clarity and consistency, the parameters and guidelines provide, consistent with Penal Code section 11165.9, that “city and county law enforcement agencies” and “city or county police or sheriff’s departments” are used interchangeably throughout the test claim statutes, and this analysis, and are not distinct entities subject to the mandate, as might be inferred from the test claim statement of decision. Additionally, for purposes of clarity and consistency, activities relating to obtaining the original investigative report and drawing independent conclusions, and retaining records of suspected child abuse reports, will be analyzed briefly. And finally, the scope of the activities approved in the test claim statement of decision pertaining to investigations and forwarding reports to DOJ is analyzed at length.

One-Time Activities: Developing Policies and Procedures to Implement the Mandate, Including Due Process Procedures

The claimant has proposed the following:

- 1) Annually, update Departmental policies and procedures necessary to comply with ICAN's requirements.<sup>69</sup>

- 2) Periodically, meet and confer with State and local agencies in coordinating ICAN cross-reporting and collaborative efforts.
- 3) Annually, train ICAN staff in State Department of Justices' [DOJ] ICAN requirements. Reimbursable specialized ICAN training costs include those incurred to compensate participants and instructors for their time in participating in an annual training session and to provide necessary facilities, training materials and audio visual presentations.
- 4) Periodically, to develop, update or obtain computer software and obtain equipment necessary for ICAN cross-reporting and reporting to DOJ.
- 5) Testing and evaluation costs that are incurred when reasonably necessary to make an evidentiary finding. Reimbursement is provided for the costs of tests and evaluations on suspects as well as victims. Victim costs include those incurred for medical exams for sexual assault and/or physical abuse, mental health exams, and, where the victim dies, for autopsies. Suspect costs include those incurred for DNA and polygraph testing. Also included, when reasonably necessary to make an evidentiary finding are the costs of video-taping interviews of victims and suspects.
- 6) Due process costs incurred by law enforcement and county welfare agencies to develop and maintain ICAN due process procedures reasonably necessary to comply with federal due process procedural protections under the 14th Amendment which need to be afforded suspects reported to the DOJ's Child Abuse Central Index [CACI].

SCO recommended, in its comments, that the proposed reasonably necessary activities “be delineated between One-time and Ongoing Activities.” SCO suggested that “Annually updating Departmental policies and procedures,” as proposed, should be only reimbursable as a one-time activity. SCO therefore recommended striking the word “annually” above, and instead approving one-time reimbursement to “[d]evelop and establish policies and procedures necessary to comply with ICAN’s requirements.”<sup>70</sup> DOF, similarly, suggested striking the word “annually” and approving only a one-time reimbursement to “[u]pdate Departmental policies and procedures to comply with ICAN requirements.”<sup>71</sup>

Government Code section 17557 provides that “[t]he proposed parameters and guidelines may include proposed reimbursable activities that are reasonably necessary for the performance of the state-mandated program.”<sup>72</sup> The Commission’s regulations provide that parameters and guidelines shall include “a description of the most reasonable methods of complying with the mandate.” “‘The most reasonable methods of complying with the mandate’ are those methods not specified in statute or executive order that are necessary to carry out the mandated program.”<sup>73</sup>

Government Code section 17559 provides that a claimant or the state may petition to set aside a Commission decision not supported by substantial evidence.<sup>74</sup> The Commission’s regulations provide that hearings need not be conducted according to strict and technical rules of evidence, but that evidence must be “the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs,” and that hearsay evidence will usually not be sufficient to support a finding unless admissible over objection in a civil action. The regulations also provide for admission of oral or written testimony, the introduction of exhibits, and taking official notice “in the manner and of such information as is described in Government Code section 11515.”<sup>75</sup> Therefore the reasonably necessary activities proposed must be supported by substantial evidence in order to withstand judicial review, and that evidence must include something other than hearsay evidence.

The claimant has submitted excerpts from the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department Child Abuse Protocol, suggesting that the department developed a written policy for child abuse investigations. The claimant has not submitted evidence directly explaining why policy updates are necessary, but it is reasonable to assume, in this limited context, that in implementing the test claim statutes some policies and procedures required updating. Accordingly, the Commission has frequently approved similar policy and procedure updates as a reasonably necessary activity.

However, there is no evidence that compliance with ICAN requirements necessitates annual updates to departmental policies and procedures. Since the enactment of the test claim statute in Statutes 2000, chapter 916, very few substantive changes have been made that pertain to the mandated activities approved in the test claim statement of decision, and the claimant has not made any showing that changes to the ICAN requirements are frequent enough or substantial enough to warrant annual updates to policies and procedures.<sup>76</sup>

Accordingly, the Commission finds that only a one-time update of policies and procedures for the ongoing activities approved by the Commission is reasonably necessary to carry out the mandate. Reimbursement for a one-time update of policies and procedures is reflected in the parameters and guidelines.

With respect to items 2) through 5), above, the claimant has not submitted sufficient evidence to establish that the proposed activities are reasonably necessary to comply with the mandate. While these activities might be logically explained, it is not the purview of the Commission to approve activities that may be connected to the mandate; the Commission requires substantial evidence to approve these activities. Seeing none, items 2) through 5) are denied. The provision of due process, and related activities and costs, are examined more fully below, but the one-time activity of developing due process procedures is approved here.

The Commission finds that item 1), to develop policies and procedures to implement the mandate, and item 6) to develop policies and procedures to provide due process, are approved as follows:

City and county police or sheriff's departments, county welfare departments, and county probation departments where designated by the county to receive mandated reports, may claim reimbursement for the increased costs to:

- a. Update Departmental policies and procedures necessary to comply with the reimbursable activities identified in IV B.
- b. Develop ICAN due process procedures reasonably necessary to comply with federal due process procedural protections under the 14th Amendment which need to be afforded suspects reported to the DOJ's Child Abuse Central Index [CACI].

Ongoing Activities

1. Distributing the Suspected Child Abuse Report Form

The Commission approved the following in the test claim statement of decision:<sup>77</sup>

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or county welfare department shall:

- Distribute the child abuse reporting form adopted by the Department of Justice (currently known as the "Suspected Child Abuse Report" Form SS 8572) to mandated reporters. (Pen. Code, § 11168, formerly § 11161.7.)<sup>78</sup>

This activity is sufficiently clear from the plain language of the test claim finding, and is therefore approved without further analysis.

2. Reporting Between Local Departments

The Commission approved the following cross-reporting requirements in the test claim statement of decision:

Accepting and Referring Initial Child Abuse Reports when a Department Lacks Jurisdiction:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or county welfare department shall:

These activities are all sufficiently clear based on the language of the findings, and are therefore taken directly from the test claim statement of decision and included in the parameters and guidelines without substantial analysis.

3. Reporting to the State Department of Justice

The most significant disputed issue in these parameters and guidelines is the proper scope of reimbursable activities relating to investigating reports of suspected child abuse and forwarding reports that have merit, as specified, to DOJ. The test claim statement of decision approved reimbursement for law enforcement agencies, county probation departments, or county welfare departments, to complete an investigation to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated, or inconclusive, for purposes of preparing and submitting Form SS 8583 to DOJ; and to forward a report in writing of every case the agency investigates that is not unfounded.

The claimant has requested reimbursement for the full course of investigative activities that law enforcement agencies undertake to satisfy, in the claimant's view, the reporting requirements of the test claim statute. The claimant has also proposed reimbursement for a number of reporting and recordkeeping requirements for county welfare departments, some of which are expressly approved elsewhere in this analysis, and some of which are not sufficiently explained or tied to approved activities in the test claim statement of decision.

The following analysis will demonstrate that reimbursement is not required for the full course of investigative activities performed by law enforcement agencies, but only the investigative activities necessary to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse is unfounded, inconclusive, or substantiated, for purposes of preparing and submitting the Form SS 8583 to DOJ. The analysis will show that the mandate to report to DOJ applies equally to all agencies subject to the mandate, and that therefore law enforcement should not be reimbursed for activities that go beyond what is required for all child protective agencies. The analysis will also show that subsequent legislation has limited the mandate to exclude law enforcement's duty to report to DOJ regarding reports that are not unfounded, and thereby limits reimbursement for investigative activities for law enforcement agencies to the period prior to the amendment; and subsequent legislation has limited the mandate for all other agencies subject to the mandate to report to DOJ regarding only reports of child abuse that are substantiated.

- a. The test claim statement of decision approved an investigation sufficient to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse is substantiated, inconclusive, or unfounded, in order to prepare and submit the Child Abuse Investigation Report Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form to the Department of Justice.

The test claim statement of decision approved the following:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or county welfare department shall:

- Complete an investigation to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing and submitting the state "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice. (Pen. Code, § 11169, subd. (a); Cal. Code Regs., tit. 11, § 903, "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583.)<sup>93</sup>
- Forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect which is determined to be substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12. Unfounded reports, as defined in Penal Code section

The reports required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice and may be sent by fax or electronic transmission. (Pen. Code, § 11169, subd. (a); Cal. b. Penal Code section 11169(a), and Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903, as approved in the test claim statement of decision, require an agency receiving mandated reports to complete an investigation to determine whether a report or known or suspected child abuse must be forwarded to DOJ, and to obtain enough information to complete the report, as required by the regulations.

The approved activities pertaining to investigation and forwarding reports arise primarily from Penal Code section 11169(a), which states the following:

A child protective agency shall forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse which is determined not to be unfounded, other than cases coming within subdivision (b) of Section 11165.2. A child protective agency shall not forward a report to the Department of Justice unless it has conducted an active investigation and determined that the report is not unfounded, as defined in Section 11165.12. If a report has previously been filed which subsequently proves to be unfounded, the Department of Justice shall be notified in writing of that fact and shall not retain the report. The report required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice. A child protective agency receiving a written report from another child protective agency shall not send that report to the Department of Justice.<sup>95</sup>

Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903, as approved in the test claim statement of decision, provided that:

All information items on the standard report form SS 8583 should be completed by the investigating [child protective agency]. Certain information items on the SS 8583 must be completed by the CPA in order for it to be considered a “retainable report” by DOJ and entered into [the index]. Reports without these items will be returned to the contributor. These information items are:

- (1) The complete name of the investigating agency and type of agency.
- (2) The agency’s report number or case name.
- (3) The action taken by the investigating agency.
- (4) The specific type of abuse.

(6) Either the suspect(s) name or the notation “unknown.”<sup>96</sup>

Other information on the form 8583, which “should be completed,” according to section 903, included the name of the investigating party, the date of the incident and the location, the address and relationship of suspect(s), and the present location of the victim, among other items.<sup>97</sup>

The Commission approved, in the test claim statement of decision, the completion of an investigation “to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive... for purposes of preparing and submitting the state “Child Abuse Investigation Report” Form SS 8583.” The Commission based its finding on Penal Code section 11169, Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 (Register 98, No. 29), and Form SS 8583. The mandate does not require a full criminal investigation, or even determination of all the information items that may be included on a Form 8583. The mandate only requires enough information to determine whether to file a Form 8583, or subsequent designated form, and enough information to render the Form 8583 a “retainable report,” under the DOJ regulations.<sup>98</sup> Therefore, an investigation sufficient to satisfy the mandate includes only what is necessary to prepare and submit form 8583, consistent with the regulations, and to determine whether a report is unfounded, substantiated, or inconclusive.

c. The claimant’s proposal provides reimbursement for activities in excess of the scope of the mandate.

The claimant’s proposal focuses heavily on law enforcement, and provides reimbursement for five “levels,” or scenarios, in which suspected child abuse is reported to law enforcement, and in which varying degrees of investigation are conducted. Each of these five levels describes a series of steps in which law enforcement expends resources to investigate the report of suspected child abuse.

Level 1 describes a situation in which a report is received and reviewed, but is determined without further investigation to be unfounded, and the case is closed without reporting to DOJ. Level 2 describes a situation in which a report is received and reviewed, and a patrol officer is dispatched to investigate. The Level 2 scenario concludes with the patrol officer conducting interviews and determining that no child abuse has occurred. Levels 3 and 4 involve a situation in which the report has some initial signs of validity and necessitates more intensive investigation. Levels 3 and 4 therefore include the collection of evidence, booking that evidence, assigning detectives, and potentially making an arrest and turning over the case to the district attorney’s office for prosecution.<sup>99</sup> Level 5 is reserved for the unusual case of a high-profile or high-volume case of child abuse, such as a day care center or religious organization, where the investigation does not neatly fit the pattern of levels 3 and 4. In each of the five levels, the initial report of suspected child abuse is received from the county welfare department.<sup>100</sup>

The claimant has submitted declarations from Suzie Ferrell and Daniel Scott, both of whom are employees of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, and both of whom assert a belief that all activities described in the four levels are "reasonably necessary in conducting ICAN investigations, preparing ICAN reports and performing other required ICAN duties."<sup>101</sup> The Ferrell declaration states that Ms. Ferrell "developed the list of steps in performing ICAN duties under scenarios 1 and 2 [herself]," and "obtained the list of steps in performing ICAN duties under scenarios 3 and 4...from Sergeant Daniel Scott with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, Family Crimes Bureau, Child Abuse Detail." Ms. Ferrell's declaration refers to Exhibit 2, containing the list of ICAN steps.<sup>102</sup> The Scott declaration introduces an excerpt from the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department Child Abuse Protocol, which describes the procedures followed by the department in response to a report of suspected child abuse. The Scott declaration also states that "it is my information and belief that the omission of one or more ICAN activities described in Exhibit 4 or ICAN steps described in Exhibit 2 could impair the requirement to conduct an 'active investigation'" as defined in the DOJ forms.<sup>103</sup> Neither declarant provides any indication that he or she has considered whether the steps should be reimbursable; only that they are necessary to complete an investigation. Moreover, what is reasonably necessary to implement the mandate is a finding of law, and the declarations submitted by the claimant may inform that decision, but do not control.

DOF argues, in its comments, that the claimant's proposal "inappropriately includes the totality of its law enforcement response to reports of child abuse, and all activities leading up to a full criminal prosecution." DOF argues that "the activities in levels 3, 4, and 5 of the RRM extend beyond the limited investigation approved in the Statement of Decision (SOD) for the purpose of preparing and submitting Form SS 8583 to the Department of Justice (DOJ)."<sup>104</sup>

CDSS ignores the test claim statement of decision, and argues that no investigation is required under CANRA, except for the very narrow instance required under section 11165.14, not pled in this test claim.<sup>105</sup> However, CDSS also notes that its regulations require county welfare agencies to conduct in person interviews, and that "CDSS' investigatory requirements parallel the law enforcement activities described in the [parameters and guidelines] only up to the point that the patrol officer completes his or her duties in the investigation.”<sup>106</sup> CDSS argues that county welfare agencies are required to make a determination whether to report to DOJ, pursuant to section 11169, on the basis of those initial in-person interviews. CDSS concludes: “[i]f these investigations comport with CANRA, and the county does not contend otherwise, it is improper for the county to maintain that the exhaustive and redundant investigatory steps performed by law enforcement in the criminal justice arena are mandated by CANRA.”<sup>107</sup>

Penal Code section 11164 states that the “intent and purpose of [CANRA] is to protect children from abuse and neglect.” The section recognizes that investigation is essential to the purpose (though it does not necessarily imply that all investigations will lead to criminal prosecution or penalties), saying: “[i]n any investigation of suspected child abuse or neglect, all persons participating in the investigation of the case shall consider the needs of the child victim and shall do whatever is necessary to prevent psychological harm to the child victim.”<sup>108</sup> CDSS argues, accordingly, that the purpose of CANRA is the protection of children, not the investigation and prosecution of crime.<sup>109</sup> CDSS argues that the reporting required by CANRA does not involve identification of suspects,<sup>110</sup> does not require the same standards of proof as a criminal investigation or prosecution, and does not differentiate cases on the basis of severity.<sup>111</sup> The point is well-taken: if the goal of CANRA were to improve the prosecution of child abuse, the focus would not be reporting to DOJ, but conducting thorough investigations.

Moreover, if a significant focus of CANRA were the investigation of criminal instances of child abuse, the requirements of section 11169 would be crafted differently for law enforcement agencies as compared with county welfare departments, respective to their abilities and resources. But the requirements are not crafted differently for different agencies; the requirements to complete an investigation and to report to DOJ apply equally to all entities subject to the mandate. To the extent that a mandate to investigate can be tied to or derived from CANRA, it must be limited to the investigative activities that all agencies can and do undertake. Any further investigation should not be attributed to the mandate of CANRA.

The Manual of Policies and Procedures, an excerpt of which is submitted by the claimant as Exhibit 9, states that a social worker “shall have in-person contact with all children alleged to be abused,” and if the report is not unfounded, “shall interview all children present at time of the investigation, and all parents who have access,” and “shall make a determination as to whether services are appropriate,” and “shall request assistance from law enforcement if necessary.” The Manual goes on to state that the county “shall submit a report pursuant to PC Section 11169 to the Department of Justice of every case it investigates...that it has determined not to be unfounded.”<sup>112</sup> CDSS does not assert that all activities required in the Manual of Policies and Procedures are required by CANRA; in fact most are required by the Welfare and Institutions Code.<sup>113</sup> Nevertheless, as CDSS points out, “[e]very year, thousands of reports are referred by county welfare departments to the Department of Justice based on the results of these investigations. CDSS is aware of no case [or] instance in which the Department of Justice rejected a county welfare department CACI referral based on the sufficiency of the social worker’s investigation.” CDSS argues that the maximum level of investigation that county welfare departments are required to undertake is to conduct interviews with parents, suspects, victims, and witnesses, and that “[b]ased on these investigative activities; the social worker is required under CDSS regulations at MPP 31-501 to determine whether the results of the investigation require referral to the Department of Justice under CANRA.”<sup>114</sup> CDSS concludes that the interviews with suspect(s), victim(s) and witness(es) conducted by county welfare departments are sufficient to comply with the mandate, and that law enforcement activities are reimbursable only to the same extent.<sup>115</sup>

As discussed above, the test claim statutes require that all agencies subject to the mandate forward all reports that are “not unfounded,” and the duty to investigate under section 11169 arises from the requirement to forward reports and to make that determination.<sup>116</sup> The point at which the decision is made to close the case (an unfounded report) or continue the investigation (an inconclusive or substantiated report) is the point at which a determination sufficient to control whether a report will be forwarded to DOJ has been made. The claimant’s evidence demonstrates that an investigation that results in a finding of no child abuse will conclude with the patrol officer’s interviews.<sup>117</sup> CDSS argues that in-person interviews are sufficient to support a decision whether to forward the report to DOJ for county welfare departments.<sup>118</sup> In the law

<sup>116</sup> As noted previously, the current text of section 11169 requires reporting to DOJ only of “substantiated” reports, rather than those that are “not unfounded,” but the effective date of this change is the same as the date after which law enforcement agencies no longer must report to DOJ in any event, and therefore the change is irrelevant to the discussion in this section.

enforcement context, however, the claimant seeks reimbursement for the next steps in the investigation, including the collection of evidence, and the referral to a detective for further investigation.<sup>119</sup> In the event those steps are taken, the matter is clearly “not unfounded,” and will result in a report to DOJ. Therefore, because in-person interviews are the last step taken by law enforcement before determining whether to proceed with a criminal investigation or close the investigation, and the last step that county welfare departments take before determining whether to forward the report to DOJ and possibly refer the matter to law enforcement, those same interviews must be the last step that is necessary to comply with the mandate. All further investigative activities are not reimbursable under the mandate, because, in a very practical sense, once evidence is being gathered for criminal prosecution, the determination that a report is “not unfounded” has been made, and the investigative mandate approved in the test claim statement of decision has been satisfied.<sup>120</sup>

Based on the foregoing, the Commission finds that the activities proposed for reimbursement to law enforcement agencies exceed the activities approved in the test claim statement of decision, as specified.

d. The requirement to investigate arises from both sections 11166 and 11169, but only investigative activities required pursuant to section 11169 are reimbursable.

The Commission’s approval of investigative activities cites Penal Code section 11169 and Alejo v. City of Alhambra. Alejo, in turn, relied on both sections 11166(a) and 11169 for its finding that police are required to investigate reports of suspected child abuse. Ultimately, the Commission found, in the test claim statement of decision, that the activities of mandated reporters, required under section 11166(a), were not reimbursable because they were not unique to government.<sup>121</sup>

Alejo involved a child being abused by his mother’s live-in boyfriend. The child’s father reported the abuse to police, but they failed to investigate, or cross-report, or create any internal report. The child was soon after severely beaten and left permanently disabled, and the police department and the officer who took the report were sued on a negligence per se theory. The court explained that a negligence per se action will lie where (1) there has been a violation of statute or regulation; (2) the harm to the plaintiff was caused by the violation of statute or regulation; (3) the harm is of the type intended to be prevented by the statute or regulation; and (4) the plaintiff is within the class of persons that were to be protected by the statute or regulation. The court held that the only elements in issue were the causation question, and whether the failure to investigate upon receipt of a report of child abuse from the father was a violation of the statute.<sup>122</sup>

Relying on Williams v. State of California (1983) 34 Cal.3d 18, the court found that, as a general rule, police do not have a duty to act, including a duty to investigate. In Williams, the California Supreme Court concluded:

In spite of the fact that our tax dollars support police functions, it is settled that the rules concerning the duty - or lack thereof - to come to the aid of another are applicable to law enforcement personnel in carrying out routine traffic investigations. Thus, the state highway patrol has the right, but not the duty, to investigate accidents.<sup>123</sup>

The California Supreme Court also observed that “the intended beneficiaries of any investigation that is undertaken are the People as prosecutors in criminal cases, not private plaintiffs in personal injury actions.”<sup>124</sup> Accordingly, the Alejo court concluded that “[t]herefore, absent a special relationship or a statute creating a special duty, the police may not be held liable for their failure to provide protection.”<sup>125</sup>

However, the court found a departure from the general rule: “[s]ection 11166, subdivision (a) creates such a duty.”<sup>126</sup> Section 11166, as it read in 1999, provided, in pertinent part:

(a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), any child care custodian, health practitioner, employee of a child protective agency, child visitation monitor, firefighter, animal control officer, or humane society officer who has knowledge of or observes a child, in his or her professional capacity or within the scope of his or her employment, whom he or she knows or reasonably suspects has been the victim of child abuse, shall report the known or suspected instance of child abuse to a child protective agency immediately or as soon as practically possible... For the purposes of this article, “reasonable suspicion” means that it is objectively reasonable for a person to entertain a suspicion, based upon facts that could cause a reasonable person in a like position, drawing when appropriate on his or her training and experience, to suspect child abuse.<sup>127</sup>

The Alejo court concluded that although nothing in the plain language of section 11166 requires a mandated reporter to investigate child abuse:

[I]t clearly envisions some investigation in order for an officer to determine whether there is reasonable suspicion to support the child abuse allegation and to trigger a report to the county welfare department and the district attorney under section 11166, subdivision (i) and to the Department of Justice under section 11169, subdivision (a). The latter statute provides in relevant part: “A child protective agency shall forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse which is determined not to be unfounded .... A child protective agency shall not forward a report to the Department of Justice unless it has conducted an active investigation and determined that the report is not unfounded, as defined in Section 11165.12.”<sup>128</sup>

Furthermore, the Alejo court held that the statute imposed a duty “to take further action when an objectively reasonable person in the same situation would suspect child abuse,” including reporting to a child protective agency immediately or as soon as practically possible. And finally, the Alejo court concluded that “[c]ontrary to the city's position, the duty to investigate and report child abuse is mandatory under section 11166, subdivision (a) if a reasonable person in Officer Doe's position would have suspected such abuse. The language of the statute, prior cases and public policy all support this conclusion.”<sup>129</sup>

In the test claim statement of decision here, the Commission noted that “the court [in Alejo] was not examining the law from a mandates perspective, and made the finding based on current law.” Therefore the Commission was compelled to examine prior law, and consider the court’s decision in the context of mandates law to determine whether new programs or higher levels of service were mandated by the test claim statutes. With respect to prior law, the Commission noted that former Penal Code section 11161.5 required that: “[c]opies of all written reports received by the local police authority shall be forwarded to the Department of Justice.”<sup>130</sup> The Commission found that the prior law did not require investigation, but required police only “to forward a copy of the report to the state, as received.”<sup>131</sup> The Commission concluded:

No earlier statutes required any determination of the validity of a report of child abuse or neglect before completing a child abuse investigative report form and forwarding it to the state. Therefore, the Commission finds that an investigation sufficient to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or neglect is unfounded, substantiated, or inconclusive, as defined by Penal Code section 11165.12, is newly mandated by Penal Code section 11169, subdivision (a), as described by the court in Alejo.<sup>132</sup>

With respect to other mandates law considerations, the Commission held that because section 11166(a), which governs the duties of a mandated reporter, applies to a number of different professions, public and private, the requirements imposed are not unique to government, and therefore cannot be reimbursable.<sup>133</sup> Accordingly, the Commission found that “Penal Code

<sup>133</sup> See County of Los Angeles v. State of California (1987) 43 Cal.3d.46, at p. 56 [Reimbursement required only for “programs that carry out the governmental function of providing services to the public, or laws which, to implement a state policy, impose unique section 11166, subdivision (a), does not mandate a new program or higher level of service on local governments for the activities required of mandated reporters.”<sup>134</sup> Therefore, even though the court in Alejo found that section 11166(a) imposed a duty to investigate on the police officer as a mandated reporter, reimbursement is not required for costs arising from that duty; section 11166(a) was therefore denied. Thus the test claim statement of decision approved reimbursement for the investigation of suspected child abuse, and for forwarding reports that are “not unfounded” to the DOJ, as specified, relying only on section 11169, as interpreted by the court in Alejo.<sup>135</sup>

- e. Only investigative activities conducted by the agency subsequent to the receipt of a mandated report are reimbursable; reimbursement is not required for investigative activities conducted by employees of a county child protective agency pursuant to the duties of a mandated reporter.

Because section 11166(a) was held by the Alejo court to impose a duty upon individuals employed by a local child protective agency to investigate, but is not reimbursable, the parameters and guidelines must be crafted to avoid over-claiming when the mandated reporter in a particular case is also an employee of the child protective agency that will complete the investigation under section 11169.

Under section 11165.9, reports “shall be made by mandated reporters to any police department, sheriff’s department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or the county welfare department.” And under section 11165.7, mandated reporters include “[a]ny employee of any police department, county sheriff’s department, county probation department, or county welfare department.”<sup>136</sup> Thus an employee of any of those agencies, represented here by the claimant, Los Angeles County, could be both a mandated reporter, and a recipient of mandated reports. In that event a mandated reporter could be required both to complete the initial report of suspected child abuse, and to investigate that report in order to determine whether to forward the matter to DOJ. In this manner the requirements of section 11166(a) and 11169 might be completed by the same agency, or even the same employee, and because the former requirements under section 11166(a) are not reimbursable, a claimant must not be permitted to claim reimbursement for investigative activities conducted pursuant to section 11166(a). In that event, reimbursement is required for investigative activities necessary to complete the agency’s duties under section 11169, but not for any investigation already completed by the mandated reporter under section 11166(a).

As discussed above, a mandated reporter’s duty to investigate under section 11166(a) pursuant to the holding in Alejo is not reimbursable. The precise scope of this investigative duty is not specified, but all mandated reporters are expected to employ the Form SS 8572 to report suspected child abuse to one of the identified child protective agencies. This duty is triggered requirements on local governments and do not apply generally to all residents and entities in the state.”]

whenever the mandated reporter, in his or her professional capacity or within the scope of his or her employment, has knowledge of or observes a child whom the mandated reporter knows or reasonably suspects has been the victim of child abuse or neglect.<sup>137</sup> Given that the scope of employment within a law enforcement agency, county probation department, or county welfare agency generally includes investigation and observation for crime prevention, law enforcement and child protection purposes, information may be obtained by an employee which triggers the requirements of section 11166(a), and ultimately leads to an investigation and report to DOJ under section 11169(a). Ultimately, some of the same information necessary to satisfy the reporting requirements of section 11169 and the DOJ regulations may be obtained in the course of completing a mandated reporter's (non-reimbursable) duties under section 11166(a) (as discussed above, section 11169 requires a determination whether a report is unfounded, inconclusive, or substantiated, and Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903, as amended by Register 98, No. 29, requires certain information items in order to complete a "retainable report").

The more recent amendments to the regulatory sections pled in the test claim provide that an agency must complete all information required in Form SS 8583.<sup>138</sup> But those amended regulations are not the subject of this test claim; the test claim statement of decision approved only Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 as amended by Register 98, No. 29, which adopted the Form SS 8583, and required that only "certain information items...must be completed." Those information items, as discussed above, impose a very low standard of investigation for reporting to DOJ regarding instances of known or suspected child abuse. Because, as discussed above, a mandated reporter is expected to do what is reasonable within the scope of his or her experience and employment, a mandated reporter who is an employee of a child protective agency necessarily has a greater responsibility to investigate when he or she has reasonable suspicion of child abuse.<sup>139</sup> Therefore the regulations and statutes approved in the test claim statement of decision impose very little beyond what would otherwise be expected of a mandated reporter in the employ of a child protective agency, and therefore reimbursement must be limited to only such investigative activity as is necessary to satisfy the mandate of section 11169, but not mandated on the individual employee under section 11166.

Therefore, any investigation conducted by an employee of a county law enforcement agency, county welfare department, or county probation department, prior to the completion of a Form SS 8572 under section 11166(a), is not reimbursable under this mandated program. And, if the Form SS 8572 is completed by an employee of the same agency, and the information contained in

<sup>138</sup> Section 902 of title 11, Code of Regulations, provides that "[i]n order to fully meet its obligations under CANRA, an agency required to report instances of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect must complete all of the information on the BCIA 8583. Only information from a fully completed BCIA 8583 will be entered into the CACI."

<sup>139</sup> See Alejo, supra, 75 Cal.App.4th, at p. 1187 ["duty to investigate and report child abuse is mandatory under section 11166, subdivision (a) if a reasonable person in Officer Doe's position would have suspected such abuse"].

the Form SS 8572 is sufficient to make the determination and complete the essential information items required by section 11169 and the regulations, no further investigation is reimbursable.<sup>140</sup>

Thus, the parameters and guidelines authorize reimbursement for investigation only to the extent information has not been previously obtained by a mandated reporter within the same agency, in the course of the investigation already performed by the mandated reporter within the scope of his or her employment, to determine if a report of child abuse is not unfounded.<sup>141</sup> If the mandated reporter in a particular case is not an employee of the investigating agency, the agency maintains an independent and reimbursable duty to investigate in order to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive for purposes of preparing and submitting the state “Child Abuse Investigation Report” Form SS 8583. If necessary, the investigating agency may need to verify the information reported on the Form SS 8572. But where the mandated reporter is an employee of the investigating agency, investigative activities necessary to complete Form 8583 to submit to DOJ, and not any investigation which was required to complete Form 8572, are reimbursable; and where the investigation undertaken to complete Form SS 8572 is sufficient also to complete Form SS 8583, and to satisfy the mandate of section 11169 to determine whether the report must be made to DOJ, reimbursement is not required for any further investigation.

f. The mandate to report to DOJ regarding suspected child abuse has been limited by subsequent legislation, as provided.

As stated above in analyzing the period of reimbursement, section 11169 was amended by the Legislature in 2011, ending the mandate for law enforcement agencies to investigate and forward to DOJ, and limiting the requirement for all other local agencies to forwarding only those reports that are substantiated. Penal Code section 11169 was amended in 2011 to provide that “[o]n and after January 1, 2012, a police department or sheriff’s department specified in Section 11165.9 shall no longer forward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of any case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect.”<sup>142</sup> Therefore, both the requirement to “[f]orward to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates,” as well as the requirement to “[c]omplete an investigation...for purposes of <sup>140</sup> This position is supported by the description submitted by the claimant of the investigative activities conducted by law enforcement: each of the four levels of investigation, as discussed above, begins with receiving a “SCAR [Suspected Child Abuse Report, Form 8572] from Department of Children and Family Services.” There is no mention of reimbursement for the situation in which the mandated reporter is an officer in the same law enforcement agency. The claimant’s requested reimbursable activities appear to assume, correctly, that any investigative activities prior to the completion of a Form 8572 will not be reimbursed; only investigative activities subsequent to the receipt of a Form 8572 are proposed for reimbursement. (Exhibit B, Claimant’s Revised Proposed Parameters and Guidelines, at pp. 4-7; 23-24).

<sup>141</sup> “Unfounded reports” are defined as reports that are determined false, to be inherently improbable, to involve accidental injury, or not to constitute child abuse or neglect as defined by Penal Code section 11165.12.

preparing and submitting the state ‘Child Abuse Investigation Report’ Form SS 8583,”<sup>143</sup> are ended, for purposes of reimbursement to law enforcement agencies, as of January 1, 2012. Penal Code section 11169 also was amended at the same time to provide that only “substantiated” reports of suspected child abuse shall be forwarded to the DOJ by agencies other than law enforcement, rather than reports that are “not unfounded,” as was the requirement under prior law.<sup>144</sup> This results in fewer reports being forwarded to DOJ by the agencies remaining subject to the mandate.

Therefore, because the statute at issue has been amended to end the requirement as applied to law enforcement, the activities approved by the Commission in the test claim statute must also end, as applied to law enforcement, and the requirement to forward reports to DOJ must be limited, as applied to all other entities subject to the mandate, as of January 1, 2012. Section IV of the parameters and guidelines reflects these dates.

g. Reimbursement for activities required to report to DOJ is approved for all agencies subject to the mandate, but for law enforcement only until December 31, 2011, and for forwarding inconclusive reports only until December 31, 2011.

The test claim statement of decision approved reimbursement for investigation of reports of suspected child abuse, but only to the extent of an investigation sufficient to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or neglect must be forwarded to DOJ. The test claim statement of decision also approved reimbursement for reporting to DOJ all reported instances of known or suspected child abuse that are determined, after investigation, to be “not unfounded.” Based on the foregoing analysis, an investigation sufficient to make that determination is complete after a law enforcement officer, or county welfare employee, or county probation department employee where applicable, has completed in-person interviews with the parents, suspects, victims, and witnesses, if any. And, because the mandate to investigate applies equally to all agencies subject to the reporting requirements, reimbursement must be limited to the activities that are or can be performed by all agencies subject to the mandate, and must exclude the collection of physical or forensic evidence, and the building of a criminal case. Moreover, because the activities of mandated reporters under section 11166(a) are not reimbursable, any investigative activity to be reimbursed under section 11169 must exclude investigative activities conducted by a mandated reporter prior to submission of a Form SS 8572, even if the mandated reporter is an employee of an otherwise-reimbursable county agency. And finally, the investigative activities of law enforcement agencies are no longer mandated under the test claim statutes as of January 1, 2012, pursuant to amendments made to the underlying code sections, as discussed above.

Pursuant to the above analysis, the following activities are approved for reimbursement in the parameters and guidelines:

Reporting to the State Department of Justice

a. From July 1, 1999 to December 31, 2011, city and county police or sheriff's departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall.<sup>145</sup>

1) Complete an investigation

Complete an investigation to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing and submitting the state "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice.<sup>146</sup>

Except as provided in paragraph below, this activity includes review of the initial Suspected Child Abuse Report (Form 8572), and dispatching an employee to conduct initial interviews with parents, victims, suspects, or witnesses, where applicable.

Reimbursement is not required for any investigative activities conducted by a mandated reporter to complete the Suspected Child Abuse Report (Form SS 8572) pursuant to Penal Code section 11166(a); in the event that the mandated reporter is employed by the same child protective agency required to investigate and submit the "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice, pursuant to Penal Code section 11169(a), reimbursement is not required if the investigation required to complete the Form SS 8572 is also sufficient to make the determination required under section 11169(a), and sufficient to complete the essential information items required on the Form SS 8583, pursuant to Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 (Register 98, No. 29).

Reimbursement is not required for investigative activities undertaken subsequent to the determination whether a report of suspected child abuse is substantiated, inconclusive, or unfounded, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing the Form SS 8583, including the collection of physical evidence, the referral to a detective, the conducting of follow-up interviews, and the potential making of an arrest.

<sup>145</sup> Pursuant to amendments to Penal Code section 11169(b) enacted by Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717), the mandate to report to DOJ for law enforcement agencies ends on January 1, 2012. In addition, the duty for all of the affected agencies is modified to exclude an "inconclusive" report.

2) Forward reports to the Department of Justice

Prepare and submit to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect which is determined to be substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12. Unfounded reports, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, shall not be filed with the Department of Justice. If a report has previously been filed which subsequently proves to be unfounded, the Department of Justice shall be notified in writing of that fact. The reports required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice (currently form 8583) and may be sent by fax or electronic transmission.<sup>147</sup>

*This activity includes costs of preparing and submitting an amended report to DOJ, when the submitting agency changes a prior finding of substantiated or inconclusive to a finding of unfounded or from inconclusive or unfounded to substantiated, or when other information is necessary to maintain accuracy of the CACI. #### 4. Notifications Following Reports to the Child Abuse Central Index

The test claim statement of decision approved the following notice requirements:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, or county welfare department shall:

- Notify in writing the known or suspected child abuser that he or she has been reported to the Child Abuse Central Index, in any form approved by the Department of Justice, at the time the "Child Abuse Investigation Report" is filed with the Department of Justice. (Pen. Code, § 11169, subd. (b).)<sup>150</sup>
- Make relevant information available, when received from the Department of Justice, to the child custodian, guardian ad litem appointed under section 326, or counsel appointed under section 317 or 318 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, or the appropriate licensing agency, if he or she is treating or investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect. (Pen. Code, § 11170, subd. (b)(1).)<sup>151</sup>
- Inform the mandated reporter of the results of the investigation and of any action the agency is taking with regard to the child or family, upon completion of the child abuse investigation or after there has been a final disposition in the matter. (Pen. Code, § 11170, subd. (b)(2).)<sup>152</sup>
- Notify, in writing, the person listed in the Child Abuse Central Index that he or she is in the index, upon receipt of relevant information concerning child abuse or neglect investigation reports contained in the index from the Department of Justice when investigating a home for the placement of dependent children. The notification shall include the name of the reporting agency and the date of the report. (Pen. Code, § 11170, subd. (b)(5), now subd. (b)(6).)<sup>153</sup>

The claimant has proposed reimbursement for the following activity:

Form SOC 832 was developed by CDSS, and is intended for use by county welfare departments to inform a known or suspected abuser that he or she has been reported to the CACI. It is not clear, based on the evidence in the record, whether any other agencies or departments also employ this form, but the Commission finds that completion of the Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing form (SOC 832), at item 3, above, is a reasonable means of implementing the expressly approved activity to “[n]otify in writing the known or suspected child abuser that he or she has been reported to the Child Abuse Central Index, in any form approved by the Department of Justice, at the time the “Child Abuse Investigation Report” is filed with the Department of Justice.”<sup>155</sup>

Additionally, the activity described here, to notify a suspected abuser that he or she has been listed in the index at the time the agency files the “Child Abuse Investigation Report” with DOJ, is ended, for law enforcement, as of January 1, 2012. This requirement arises from Penal Code section 11169, which, as discussed above, was amended in Statutes 2011, chapter 468, ending the requirement for law enforcement to forward reports of suspected child abuse to DOJ as of January 1, 2012. Because the requirement above is to notify the suspected abuser at the time the report is filed with DOJ, and because law enforcement agencies “shall no longer” file those reports, the notice requirement is also ended.

The parameters and guidelines will reflect the completion of the form SOC 832, as a reasonable means of implementing the approved activity, and will reflect the end date of this activity for law enforcement agencies, as follows:

a. City and county police or sheriff’s departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:

- 1) Notify in writing the known or suspected child abuser that he or she has been reported to the Child Abuse Central Index, in any form approved by the Department of Justice, at the time the “Child Abuse Investigation Report” is filed with the Department of Justice.<sup>156</sup>*

For law enforcement agencies only, this activity is eligible for reimbursement from July 1, 1999 until December 31, 2011, pursuant to amendments to Penal Code section 11169(b), enacted in Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717), which ends the mandate to report to DOJ for law enforcement agencies.

The test claim statement of decision also approved the following, related to the notice requirements, and triggered by the receipt of information from the CACI during the course of a routine investigation, or an investigation of a current report of suspected child abuse or neglect:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, county welfare department, county licensing agency, or district attorney's office shall:

- Obtain the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and draw independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, licensing, or placement of a child, when a report is received from the Child Abuse Central Index. (Pen. Code, § 11170, subd. (b)(6)(A), now (b)(8)(A).)<sup>157</sup>

Information implicating the requirement to obtain and review the original report may be received from DOJ by the means described in section 11170. Section 11170, as amended by Statutes 2000, chapter 916, provides, in pertinent part:

The Department of Justice shall immediately notify an agency that submits a report pursuant to Section 11169, or a district attorney who requests notification, of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) that is relevant to the known or suspected instance of child abuse or severe neglect reported by the agency...

The department shall make available to the State Department of Social Services or to any county licensing agency that has contracted with the state for the performance of licensing duties information regarding a known or suspected child abuser maintained pursuant to this section and subdivision (a) of Section 11169 concerning any person who is an applicant for licensure or any adult who resides or is employed in the home of an applicant for licensure or who is an applicant for employment in a position having supervisory or disciplinary power over a child or children, or who will provide 24-hour care for a child or children in a residential home or facility...

¶...¶

The department shall make available to investigative agencies or probation officers, or court investigators acting pursuant to Section 1513 of the Probate Code, responsible for placing children or assessing the possible placement of children...information regarding a known or suspected child abuser contained in the index concerning any adult residing in the home where the child may be placed, when this information is requested for purposes of ensuring that the placement is in the best interests of the child.

Persons or agencies, as specified in subdivision (b), if investigating a case of known or suspected child abuse or neglect, or the State Department of Social Services or any county licensing agency pursuant to paragraph (3), or an agency or court investigator responsible for placing children or assessing the possible placement of children pursuant to paragraph (5), to whom disclosure of any information maintained pursuant to subdivision (a) is authorized, are responsible for obtaining the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and for drawing independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence disclosed, and its sufficiency for making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, licensing, or placement of a child.<sup>158</sup>

Thus the duty to obtain and objectively review the original investigative report is implicated when an agency, in the conduct of its ordinary duties, has occasion to inquire to DOJ regarding an individual currently under investigation regarding an instance of known or suspected child abuse, or before the agency seeking a license, or placement of a child, or an employee of a licensee or home in which a child would be placed. In such case, the DOJ is instructed by the above statute that it “shall make available” the information requested, and the agency, in turn, is required, when a listing in the CACI is made known, to obtain the original investigative report, and to review it objectively in order to evaluate licensing, placement, or prosecution decisions. The section then requires that persons or agencies, when conducting their existing duties to investigate cases of known or suspected child abuse, or when making a licensing determination, or when assessing the possible placement of children in a home, shall, upon receipt of information from DOJ regarding an individual suspected of child abuse, or regarding an instance of suspected child abuse, obtain the original investigative report from the reporting agency, and draw independent conclusions regarding the quality of the evidence and its sufficiency for making decisions within the agency’s or person’s discretion.

The purpose of this section can be inferred from its context, and from the expansion of its scope subsequent to Statutes 2000, chapter 916: Penal Code section 11170(b)(10) (renumbered) now imposes the same requirements on a Court Appointed Special Advocate investigating prospective employees or volunteers, a local government agency conducting a background check on a prospective peace officer employee, and a county welfare or adoption agency conducting a background check on a prospective employee or volunteer.<sup>159</sup> These are not persons who would normally be subject to an active, targeted investigation seeking information regarding suspected child abuse; rather, they are persons who would be subject to a routine background investigation before they can be granted employment, or some other benefit. The Commission does not here seek to exercise jurisdiction over subsequent amendments to section 11170; the expanded scope of the section is discussed only as it helps to illuminate the purpose of the requirement, which is to obtain and objectively review a report of suspected child abuse, when information is received from DOJ regarding an individual before the agency in the normal course of the agency's duties. The purpose of the test claim statute (section 11170, as last amended in 2000), then, must be to protect the individual seeking a license, or placement of a child in his or her home, from being summarily denied on the basis of a report contained in the CACI. And, with respect to a person being investigated for a more recent instance of known or suspected child abuse, the test claim statute is meant to ensure that a district attorney or other law enforcement or child protective agency does not pre-judge the individual based solely upon the existence of a prior report in the CACI; the investigating agency, or district attorney, must obtain and objectively review the prior report, and evaluate "its sufficiency for making decisions."<sup>160</sup>

However, the Commission finds that reimbursement is only required for the costs of obtaining the original report and reviewing the report objectively. This section does not mandate reimbursement of any investigative activities that implicate the requirement to obtain the original report, nor any investigative activities that might be necessary after reviewing the report with respect to "making decisions regarding investigation, prosecution, licensing, or placement of a child."<sup>161</sup>

Based on the foregoing, the parameters and guidelines provide for reimbursement as follows:

City or county police or sheriff's department, county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, county welfare department, county licensing agency, or district attorney's office shall:

Obtain the original investigative report from the agency that submitted the information to the CACI pursuant to Penal Code section 11169(a), and shall objectively review the report, when information regarding an individual suspected of child abuse or neglect, or an instance of suspected child abuse or neglect, is received from the CACI while performing existing duties pertaining to criminal investigation or prosecution, or licensing, or placement of a child.

Reimbursement for this activity does not include investigative activities conducted by the agency, either prior to or subsequent to receipt of the information that necessitates obtaining and reviewing the investigative report.

Finally, the test claim statement of decision approved the following notice requirement, pertaining to a CACI inquiry made prior to temporary custody or placement of a child.

The notification shall include the location of the original investigative report and the submitting agency. The notification shall be submitted to the person listed at the same time that all other parties are notified of the information, and no later than the actual judicial proceeding that determines placement. (Pen. Code, § 11170, subd. (c).)*

This activity is included in the parameters and guidelines without substantial analysis. The remaining notice requirements approved in the test claim statement of decision, as stated above, are also included in the parameters and guidelines without substantial analysis.

5. Record Retention

The test claim statement of decision approved reimbursement for record retention by local government agencies as follows:

Any city or county police or sheriff's department, or county probation department if designated by the county to receive mandated reports shall:

- Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of eight years for counties and cities (a higher level of service above the two-year record retention requirement pursuant to Gov. Code §§ 26202 (cities) and 34090 (counties).) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is received within the first 10-year period, the report shall be maintained for an additional 10 years.

A county welfare department shall:

- Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of seven years for welfare records (a higher level of service above the three-year record retention requirement pursuant to Welf. & Inst. Code, § 10851.) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is received within the first 10-year period, the report shall be maintained for an additional 10 years.<sup>162</sup>

Penal Code section 11169 provides that “Agencies, including police departments and sheriff’s departments, shall retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result or resulted in a report filed with the Department of Justice pursuant to subdivision (a) for the same period of time that the information is required to be maintained on the CACI pursuant to this section and subdivision (a) of Section 11170.”<sup>163</sup> Penal Code section 11170 provides that information from an inconclusive or unsubstantiated report is removed from CACI after 10 years, unless a new report of suspected child abuse is received relating to the same person or persons within that time. However, because agencies subject to the test claim statute were already subject to record retention time frames for these reports, claimants are only eligible for reimbursement for the higher level of service; the length of time exceeding the prior requirement.

Government Code sections 26202 and 34090 allow cities and counties, respectively, to authorize destruction of records after two years. The Commission found that while the test claim statute requires a minimum 10 years of record retention, the initial two years are not reimbursable because of this existing requirement. The additional minimum of eight years is reimbursable under the test claim statute, and the parameters and guidelines reflect this analysis.<sup>164</sup>

Similarly, Welfare and Institutions Code section 10851 permits destruction of records after three years for county welfare departments. The Commission found that because county welfare departments already had a duty to retain records for three years under Welfare and Institutions Code section 10851, records retention for a minimum of seven years should be reimbursed under the test claim: the length of time added to the retention requirement by the test claim statute.<sup>165</sup> The parameters and guidelines reflect this analysis.

The parameters and guidelines provide for reimbursement of eight and seven years, respectively, for record retention for county probation departments and county welfare departments. As explained here and in the test claim statement of decision, the years for which claimants are eligible for reimbursement for record retention are those eight and seven years, respectively, that follow the two or three year retention period required under prior law. Therefore the Commission adopts the following language:

City and county police or sheriff's departments, and county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports shall:

Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports, that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of eight years for counties and cities (a higher level of service above the prior two-year record retention requirement pursuant to Gov. Code §§ 26202 (cities) and 34090 (counties).) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is received within the first 10-year period, the report shall be maintained for an additional 10 years.<sup>166</sup>

This activity includes retaining copies of the Suspected Child Abuse Report form SS 8572, received from a mandated reporter, and the Child Abuse Summary Report form SS 8583, with the original investigative report.

Reimbursement is not required for the first two years of record retention required under prior law, but only for the eight years following.

6. Due Process Procedures Extended to Individual Listed in CACI

The claimant has proposed reimbursement for due process requirements implicated by the test claim statutes, as follows:

Due process costs incurred by law enforcement and county welfare agencies to develop and maintain ICAN due process procedures reasonably necessary to comply with federal due process procedural protections under the 14th Amendment which need to be afforded suspects reported to the DOJ's Child Abuse Central Index [CACI].

DOF suggests striking this requirement entirely, but without comment.<sup>168</sup> SCO suggests limiting this activity to one-time development of ICAN due process procedures.<sup>169</sup> These comments are set aside, pursuant to the following analysis.

It is not clear whether the claimant's proposed language encompasses the actual implementation of due process procedures and the provision of a constitutionally-appropriate hearing for individuals whose rights are affected by the test claim statutes, or is limited to the development of due process procedures. The following analysis will demonstrate that agencies have always been responsible, under the Constitution and laws of the United States, and of California, to provide due process protections to those listed in the Child Abuse Central Index, and that Statutes 2011, chapter 468 codified these protections in Penal Code section 11169. Claimants are therefore eligible for reimbursement for the ongoing costs of providing due process in each individual case, as well as the one-time costs of developing due process procedures.

- a. An individual's inclusion within the Child Abuse Central Index triggers that person's due process rights.

The test claim statement of decision was adopted in 2007, without discussion of the precise contours of due process protections implicated by the test claim statute. In 2009 the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals decided Humphries v. County of Los Angeles (9th Cir. 2009) 554 F.3d 1170, in which it was held that CANRA triggers an individual’s 14th Amendment rights to due process of law, because inclusion in the CACI can affect a person’s liberty or property interests: certain licenses, and a number of relevant vocations, are not available to a person listed in the CACI.<sup>170</sup>

The plaintiffs in Humphries were listed in the CACI as a result of an allegation of child abuse made by a rebellious teenager.<sup>171</sup> Out-of-state investigators determined that the report of child abuse was “substantiated,” and the Humphries were arrested by Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department officers and the report of suspected child abuse forwarded to DOJ for listing in the index.<sup>172</sup> The Humphries were later cleared of any wrongdoing by the courts, but were unable to have their names removed from the CACI, in part because the investigator who had forwarded their names in the first instance was no longer employed with the department.<sup>173</sup>

The Humphries alleged that their listing in the CACI impacted their reputations and potentially their livelihood: Mrs. Humphries worked as a special education teacher, and introduced evidence that renewal of her teaching credentials might be halted by the information in the CACI.<sup>174</sup>

Mrs. Humphries also indicated that her desire to pursue a degree in psychology was threatened by her inclusion in the CACI, because portions of her psychology coursework included working in a child care program, which in turn would require a CACI background check. The court found that this evidence implicated the Humphries’ rights to procedural due process.

The court determined that listing in the CACI deprived the Humphries of rights secured by the Constitution and laws of the United States. Specifically, the stigma of being listed in the CACI, along with the statutory consequences, including the inability to obtain certain licenses or credentials, constituted a violation of protected liberty interests.<sup>175</sup> The court held that a “lack of any meaningful, guaranteed procedural safeguards before the initial placement on CACI combined with the lack of any effective process for removal from CACI violate[d] the Humphries’ due process rights.” Because certain licensing agencies are required to consult the CACI before issuing licenses, “the CACI cease[s] to be a mere investigatory tool, [and becomes], in substance, a judgment against those listed.”<sup>176</sup> The court did not seek to dictate exactly what due process is required, but stated:

<sup>173</sup> Id., at pp. 1181-1182.

At the very least, however, California must promptly notify a suspected child abuser that his name is on the CACI and provide “some kind of hearing” by which he can challenge his inclusion. See Goss v. Lopez, 419 U.S. 565, 578, 95 S.Ct. 729, 42 L.Ed.2d 725 (1975); Henry J. Friendly, “Some Kind of Hearing,” 123 U. Pa. L.Rev. 1267 (1975) (discussing the various forms that a hearing can take). The opportunity to be heard on the allegations ought to be before someone other than the official who initially investigated the allegation and reported the name for inclusion on the CACI, and the standards for retaining a name on the CACI after it has been challenged ought to be carefully spelled out.<sup>177</sup>

Based on the court’s reasoning in Humphries, it is clear that some due process is owed to those listed in the CACI, to ensure that the listings are not erroneous, and that an innocent person is not unduly damaged. At a minimum, due process requires notice, and an opportunity to be heard before an impartial fact finder.

b. Due process protections recognized in Humphries were incorporated in the subsequent amendments to the test claim statutes.

After and in accordance with Humphries, the Legislature sought to include basic due process protections in the statutes that make up CANRA. These requirements are declaratory of existing federal and state due process protections and do not require a new test claim decision. Due process protections identified in Humphries and codified by the Legislature are reasonably necessary to comply with the mandate; moreover, the amendments made to section 11169 are implementing existing constitutional requirements triggered by the test claim statutes, not imposing additional mandated activities.

Subdivisions (d) through (g) were added to section 11169 by Statutes 2011, chapter 468, as follows:

(d) Subject to subdivision (e), any person who is listed on the CACI has the right to a hearing before the agency that requested his or her inclusion in the CACI to challenge his or her listing on the CACI. The hearing shall satisfy due process requirements. It is the intent of the Legislature that the hearing provided for by this subdivision shall not be construed to be inconsistent with hearing proceedings available to persons who have been listed on the CACI prior to the enactment of the act that added this subdivision.

(e) A hearing requested pursuant to subdivision (d) shall be denied when a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that suspected child abuse or neglect has occurred, or when the allegation of child abuse or neglect resulting in the referral to the CACI is pending before the court. A person who is listed on the CACI and has been denied a hearing pursuant to this subdivision has a right to a hearing pursuant to subdivision (d) only if the court’s jurisdiction has terminated, the court has not made a finding concerning whether the suspected child abuse or neglect was substantiated, and a hearing has not previously been provided to the listed person pursuant to subdivision (d).

(f) Any person listed in the CACI who has reached 100 years of age shall have his or her listing removed from the CACI.

(g) If, after a hearing pursuant to subdivision (d) or a court proceeding described in subdivision (e), it is determined the person's CACI listing was based on a report that was not substantiated, the agency shall notify the Department of Justice of that result and the department shall remove that person's name from the CACI.

These changes, recognizing that “CACI has been the subject of substantial litigation over the years, principally involving issues related to due process of law,” are intended “to address the issues raised in previous lawsuits” regarding the constitutionality of the CACI.<sup>178</sup> The Legislative Counsel’s digest preceding the bill provides as follows:

Existing law charges the Department of Justice with maintaining CACI and requires that the index be continually updated by the department and not contain any reports that are determined to be unfounded.

This bill would instead provide that only information from reports that are reported as substantiated would be filed, and all other determinations would be removed from the centralized list. The bill would also provide that any person who is listed on the CACI has the right to an agency hearing, as specified, to challenge his or her listing on the CACI. The bill would require the hearing to meet due process requirements. The bill would also specify the circumstances under which the hearing may be denied. The bill would further provide that a person who is listed on the CACI has a right to that hearing if the court’s jurisdiction terminates, the court has not made a finding concerning whether the suspected child abuse or neglect was substantiated, and that hearing has not been provided previously to the listed person. After that hearing or a court proceeding, if it is determined that the person’s CACI listing was based on a report that was not substantiated, the agency would be required to notify the department of that result and the department shall remove that person’s name from the CACI.

The Committee analysis also states that “[t]he provisions of this bill seeking to ensure that CACI is operated in a constitutional manner are likely to result in significant future litigation-related cost savings potentially in the millions of dollars to the DOJ and local agencies.” While this statement captures the intent of cost-savings, it also recognizes the intent to alter the operation of the CACI to achieve consistency with constitutional requirements. Therefore the Commission finds that the amendments to section 11170, effected by Statutes 2011, chapter 468, are not newly mandated requirements, but are codifying and clarifying existing federal and state constitutional requirements.

- c. Due process protections required under the Constitution of the United States, or under the Constitution and laws of the State of California, when triggered by state-mandated activities, are reimbursable pursuant to Article XIII B, section 6.

In San Diego Unified School District v. Commission on State Mandates (2004) 33 Cal.4th 859, the California Supreme Court held that all due process procedures and costs resulting from expulsions made mandatory by the test claim statute were reimbursable, whether arising from federal law or state law.<sup>179</sup> Education Code section 48915, in pertinent part, “(1) compelled a school principal to immediately suspend any student found to be in possession of a firearm at school or at a school activity off school grounds, and (2) mandated a recommendation to the school district governing board that the student be expelled.”<sup>180</sup> The court noted that “whenever expulsion is recommended [under state law] a student has a right to an expulsion hearing.” The court held, “[a]ccordingly, it is appropriate to characterize the former provision as mandating immediate suspension, a recommendation of expulsion, and hence, an expulsion hearing.”<sup>181</sup>

The Commission, in its test claim statement of decision prior to San Diego Unified, had excepted the federal due process requirements from reimbursement pursuant to Government Code section 17556, finding that only the due process requirements imposed by the test claim statute that were in excess of the federal requirements should be reimbursable.<sup>182</sup> The court disagreed, finding that section 17556 was not applicable to the facts; that Education Code section 48915, providing for mandatory expulsions in certain situations, does not “implement federal law,” and therefore due process costs arising from both federal and state law and Constitutions are reimbursable when an expulsion recommendation is made mandatory under state statute.<sup>183</sup>

d. The one-time development of due process procedures, as well as the ongoing provision of due process protections to listed individuals, are approved.

Due process procedures were not expressly approved in the test claim statement of decision, nor are due process requirements found in the language of the test claim statutes, as pled. Rather the Humphries decision recognized a due process right inherent in the existence and application of the CACI, and the Legislature subsequently amended the code to include due process protections. San Diego Unified is in accord, in that it makes clear that due process procedures triggered by state-mandated activities are reimbursable whether arising under state or federal law or Constitution.<sup>184</sup> The Commission now must accept the courts’ findings and hold that due process protections triggered by test claim statutes surrounding the CACI are reimbursable.

The court in Humphries directed the state to institute “some kind of hearing” process to provide a remedy for those who would challenge their listing in the CACI, and provided that the hearing must be before someone other than the person who performed the investigation.<sup>185</sup> The very fact that the Humphries’ were forced to sue (as well as the amendments to the code following thereafter) demonstrates that it is unlikely that adequate due process procedures existed prior to that 2009 case, at least in Los Angeles County. The Department of Social Services has adopted procedures that appear at first glance to satisfy due process, as interpreted by the court in Humphries, but those measures, adopted in settlement of another due process case, only extended to county welfare departments at that time, and were not required of law enforcement agencies. This is yet another reason for the amendments made in Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717).<sup>186</sup>

Based on the court's express finding that due process protections are owed, reimbursement for the development and implementation of those procedures is reasonably necessary to carry out the mandate. However, the claimant has submitted no evidence that due process procedures must be continually "develop[ed] and maintain[ed]." Therefore, approval of this activity is limited to a one-time activity of developing procedures for this program, consistent with the Legislature's expression of the constitutional requirements, rather than an on-going activity including "maintain[ing]" due process procedures.

The actual provision of due process protections to individuals who seek to challenge being listed in the CACI is reimbursable, based on the holdings of San Diego Unified and Humphries, supra. Because listing in the CACI triggers 14th Amendment due process protections, the agency initiating the listing must provide sufficient due process to protect the rights of the individual against unconstitutional deprivation of a protected liberty interest. The cost of that process is thus reasonably necessary to carry out the mandate. Given that due process hearings will be required any time an individual seeks to challenge his or her inclusion in the CACI, this must be considered a reasonably necessary ongoing activity.

Accordingly, and consistently with the implications of the Humphries decision, and San Diego Unified, and the subsequent amendments to section 11169, the Commission finds that one-time development and implementation of due process procedures is approved for reimbursement in these parameters and guidelines. The Commission also approves ongoing provision of due process protections to individuals seeking to challenge their listing in the CACI, including notice and a hearing. Both of these activities are eligible for reimbursement by a showing of actual costs, and will require contemporaneous source documentation, as provided in the parameters and guidelines. It is unclear how many, if any, of the eligible claimants provided the mandated due process protections prior to the Humphrey's decision in 2009 or the amendment of 11169 in 2011 and what the scope of those protections might have been. However, any jurisdiction that did actually perform the mandated due process activities is eligible to claim for their actual costs incurred beginning July 1, 1999,

7. Requirements of County Welfare Departments Proposed by Claimant

The claimant has proposed reimbursement for reporting activities of county welfare departments, some of which are not supported on the basis of the record, and exceed the scope of the mandate. The claimant proposes reimbursement for the following reporting activities for county welfare departments:

1. Completion of the Child Abuse Summary Report (SS 8583) form [Standard time is 22 minutes]
2. Completion of the Suspected Child Abuse Report (SS 8572) form [Standard time is 23 minutes]

3. Completion of the Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing (SOC 832) form [Standard time is 13 minutes]

4. Filing copies of the SS 8583 and SS 8572 forms with a copy of the investigative report [Standard time is 22 minutes]

5. Response to DOJ inquires [Standard time is 9 minutes].<sup>187</sup>

The Commission finds that preparing and submitting the Child Abuse Summary Report form (SS 8583) is expressly approved in the test claim statement of decision, as part and parcel of the completion of an investigation and forwarding of reports to DOJ. The parameters and guidelines reflect this activity, as discussed above, and it is not necessary to further analyze this activity here.

Completion of a “Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing (SOC 832) form” is discussed above with respect to providing notice to a suspected abuser that he or she has been listed in the index. The Commission finds, as stated above, that the completion of the form is a reasonable method by which to comply with the mandate, and the parameters and guidelines reflect reimbursement for this activity, where applicable.

Additionally, the claimant proposes reimbursement for “[f]iling copies of the SS 8583 and SS 8572 forms with a copy of the investigative report.” The Child Abuse Summary Report, form 8583, is the form forwarded to DOJ. The Suspected Child Abuse Report, form 8572, originates with the mandated reporter, and is received by the investigating agency; this is the report that precipitates all reimbursable activities under CANRA. The activity proposed above might be interpreted to include filing copies of the forms with DOJ, but this is clearly not required by DOJ regulations.<sup>188</sup> Therefore, it more likely is intended to mean filing copies of the incoming (8572) and outgoing (8583) forms with the investigating agency’s investigation report, retained by the agency. Retention of these forms is included in the parameters and guidelines language regarding the expressly approved activities regarding retention of records of suspected child abuse.

The remaining activities cited above are not supported by evidence in the record. In particular, the Suspected Child Abuse Report form (SS 8572) is the same form employed by mandated reporters, individuals whose activities are not subject to reimbursement. It is not clear based on the evidence in the record why county welfare agencies should be reimbursed for completing the Child Abuse Summary Report form, while county welfare employees would be subject, as individuals, based on their vocation, to the mandatory reporting requirements, which are not reimbursable. In other words, a psychologist, or doctor, would be considered a mandatory reporter by vocation and training, whether employed by the county, or some private entity. Therefore, as was explicitly found in the test claim statement of decision, the mandated reporter activity, to complete the Child Abuse Summary Report form, is not unique to government, and does not impose a reimbursable new program or higher level of service.<sup>189</sup> Submittal of this form to the child protective agency is the triggering event for the mandate—without it there are no mandated activities.

Furthermore, it is unclear from what approved activity in the test claim statement of decision the claimant derives the alleged reasonably necessary activity “Response to DOJ inquiries (9 min).” It could be asserted that responding to DOJ inquiries is a reasonably necessary activity, but the claimant has provided no explanation as to what would give rise to a DOJ inquiry, nor any explanation of what inquiries are proposed to be reimbursable.<sup>190</sup> DOJ does not take any responsibility for the accuracy of the information maintained in the index: “DOJ does not conduct an investigation to verify the accuracy of the information submitted nor does it investigate the quality or accuracy of the abuse or severe neglect investigation conducted by the submitting agency.”<sup>191</sup> DOJ serves only as a repository of information, based on the language of the test claim statutes. Therefore it is unknown what sort of inquiry DOJ might undertake to make. The claimant has provided no evidence in the record explaining what a “DOJ inquiry” entails, and therefore this activity must be denied.

Based on the foregoing, the Commission finds that the preparing and submitting the Child Abuse Summary Report, form SS 8583, retaining copies of the Child Abuse Summary Report form SS 8583 and the Suspected Child Abuse Report form SS 8572, and the completion of the Notice of Child Abuse Central Index Listing, form SOC 832, are approved elsewhere in this analysis, and incorporated within the parameters and guidelines, as appropriate. The remaining proposed activities are denied.

C. Claim Preparation and RRM Proposal (Section V. of Proposed Parameters and Guidelines)

The claimant has proposed standard times RRM for specified activities, including investigative activities performed by law enforcement agencies, and complying with reporting and notice requirements by county welfare departments. The claimant’s proposed RRM will be incorporated into the discussion below, where relevant.

For the following reasons, the Commission finds that the evidence and exhibits submitted are not sufficient to support adoption of the proposed RRM, consistent with the constitutional and statutory requirements of RRM, and of Commission decisions generally. While an RRM proposal need not be based on actual cost data, nor precisely reimburse every dollar to every claimant, an RRM must reasonably reimburse claimants for the costs mandated by the state, and an RRM proposal must be based on substantial evidence, like any other Commission decision. Here, as discussed below, there is not sufficient evidence in the record to meet the substantial evidence standard, and to adopt the RRM for reimbursement on the basis of this record.

<sup>189</sup> Exhibit A, Test Claim Statement of Decision, at pp. 15-16 [Duties alleged under Penal Code section 11166 “are not required of local entities, but of mandated reporters as individual citizens,” and are therefore not a reimbursable state-mandated new program or higher level of service].

Thus, the parameters and guidelines include the Commission’s standard language for actual cost reimbursement in Section V, requiring documentation to support the claims for reimbursement.

a. The purpose of an RRM is to reimburse local government efficiently and simply, with minimal auditing and documentation required.

1. The reimbursement requirement

Article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution provides: “Whenever the Legislature or any state agency mandates a new program or higher level of service on any local government [defined to include school districts], the State shall provide a subvention of funds to reimburse that local government for the costs of the program or increased level of service [with exceptions not applicable here]...”

This reimbursement obligation was “enshrined in the Constitution ... to provide local entities with the assurance that state mandates would not place additional burdens on their increasingly limited revenue resources.”<sup>192</sup> Section 17561(a) states: “[t]he state shall reimburse each local agency and school district for all ‘costs mandated by the state,’ as defined in Section 17514.”<sup>193</sup> Government Code section 17514, in turn, defines “costs mandated by the state” as any increased cost incurred as a result of any state statute or executive order that mandates a new program or higher level of service.<sup>194</sup> The courts have interpreted the Constitutional and statutory scheme as requiring “full” payment of the actual costs incurred by a local entity once a mandate is determined by the Commission.<sup>195</sup> The statutes providing for the adoption of an RRM, along with the other statutes in this part of the Government Code, are intended to implement article XIII B, section 6.<sup>196</sup>

App. 1st Dist. 2000) 84 Cal.App.4th 1264, 1284. The court in County of Sonoma recognized that the goal of article XIII B, section 6 was to prevent the state from forcing extra programs on local government in a manner that negates their careful budgeting of expenditures, and that a forced program is one that results in “increased actual expenditures.” The court further noted the statutory mandates process that refers to the reimbursement of “actual costs incurred.”

See also, Government Code sections 17522 defining “annual reimbursement claim” to mean a claim for “actual costs incurred in a prior fiscal year; and Government Code section 17560(d)(2) and (3), referring to the Controller’s audit to verify the “actual amount of the mandated costs.”

2. Statutory flexibility and constitutional consistency

Statutory provision for the adoption of an RRM was originally enacted in 2004, and amended in 2007 to promote greater flexibility in adoption of an RRM.<sup>197</sup> In a 2007 report, the Legislative Analyst's Office (LAO) states that an RRM is intended to reduce local and state costs to file, process, and audit claims; and to reduce disputes regarding mandate claims and State Controller's claim reductions. The report identifies, under the heading "Concerns With the Mandate Process," the difficulties under the statutes then-in-effect:

- Most mandates are not complete programs, but impose increased requirements on ongoing local programs. Measuring the cost to carry out these marginal changes is complex.
- Instead of relying on unit costs or other approximations of local costs, reimbursement methodologies (or "parameters and guidelines") typically require local governments to document their actual costs to carry out each element of the mandate.
- The documentation required makes it difficult for local governments to file claims and leads to disputes with the State Controller's Office.

The LAO's recommendation to address these issues was to:

Expand the use of unit-based and other simple claiming methodologies by clarifying the type of easy-to-administer methodologies that the Legislature envisioned when it enacted this statute...<sup>198</sup>

Former section 17518.5 provided that an RRM must "meet the following conditions:"

- (1) The total amount to be reimbursed statewide is equivalent to total estimated local agency and school district costs to implement the mandate in a cost-efficient manner.
- (2) For 50 percent or more of eligible local agency and school district claimants, the amount reimbursed is estimated to fully offset their projected costs to implement the mandate in a cost-efficient manner.<sup>199</sup>

These bill analyses identify the purpose of the RRM process is to "streamline the documentation and reporting process for mandates.;" Kaufman & Broad Communities, Inc. v. Performance Plastering (Cal. Ct. App. 3d Dist. 2005) 133 Cal.App.4th 26, at pp. 31-32 [Reports of the Legislative Analyst's Office may properly be considered, as legislative history, to determine the legislative intent of a statute].

The LAO's recommendations were implemented in Statutes 2007, chapter 329 (AB 1222). Section 17518.5 now defines an RRM as follows:

- (a) "Reasonable reimbursement methodology" means a formula for reimbursing local agencies and school districts for costs mandated by the state, as defined in Section 17514.
- (b) A reasonable reimbursement methodology shall be based on cost information from a representative sample of eligible claimants, information provided by associations of local agencies and school districts, or projections of other local costs.
- (c) A reasonable reimbursement methodology shall consider the variation in costs among local agencies and school districts to implement the mandate in a cost efficient manner.
- (d) Whenever possible, a reasonable reimbursement methodology shall be based on general allocation formulas, uniform cost allowances, and other approximations of local costs mandated by the state, rather than detailed documentation of actual costs . . . .
- (e) A reasonable reimbursement methodology may be developed by any of the following:
  - (1) The Department of Finance.
  - (2) The Controller.
  - (3) An affected state agency.
  - (4) A claimant.
  - (5) An interested party.<sup>200</sup>

An RRM diverges from the traditional requirement of supporting a reimbursement claim with detailed documentation of actual costs incurred and, instead, applies a standard formula or single standard unit cost, based on approximations of local costs mandated by the state. A unit cost or, in this case, unit times, based on approximations or other projections may result in some entities receiving more than their actual costs incurred to comply with a mandated program, and some receiving less.

While considering Voter Identification Procedures (03-TC-23), Commission staff requested comments from the parties and interested parties to three claims that were pending on a proposed unit cost RRM,<sup>201</sup> on the following questions: "At some point is the range of figures used to develop the unit cost so wide that it violates the constitutional requirement that local agencies be reimbursed for their mandate-related costs?"<sup>202</sup> The claimants in the Behavioral Intervention

Plans (BIPS) argued that the 2007 amendments to the RRM statute evidence the Legislature’s conclusion that levels of mandate reimbursement may range widely and still be constitutional:

Since 2007, the current requirements for RRM’s are considerably less specific and more flexible than the former requirements. Now, there is no requirement that a minimum percentage of claimants’ projected costs be fully offset or that the total amount to be reimbursed statewide covers the total of local estimated costs. Since 2007, Section 17518.5 requires only that RRM’s “be based on cost information from a representative sample of eligible claimants, information provided by associations of local agencies and school districts, or other projections of local costs,” and that the RRM “consider the variation in costs among local agencies and school districts to implement the mandate in a cost-efficient manner.” In other words, the statute expressly contemplates variation and leaves open the possibility for a potentially large degree of variation in the costs offset.<sup>203</sup>

The claimant in this test claim argued also that under the amended statute an RRM may be valid even where “some survey respondents receive less than half of their costs,” or less than half of respondents recover their full costs. The claimant also argued that “[a]ccordingly, while RRM surveys initially produce a wide range of responses which may appear inequitable, that is not, in and of itself, a basis for maintaining that the proposed RRM rate is constitutionally prohibited.”<sup>204</sup> The claimant’s observation of the highly permissive nature of the amended statute is, in part, correct. But the conclusion as to what may be constitutionally permitted is not supportable. As the following analysis will demonstrate, the statutory requirements are highly flexible, but whether an RRM can reasonably be adopted will turn on whether it provides reimbursement reasonably in line with costs incurred by eligible claimants and whether it is supported by substantial evidence in the record.

3. Constitutional requirement of reasonable reimbursement

The 2007 amendments to section 17518.5, as explained above, provide for more flexibility when adopting a unit cost RRM, as compared with the prior section enacted in 2004. However, a unit cost must represent a reasonable approximation of the costs incurred by eligible claimants to implement the state-mandated program, in order to comply with the constitutional requirement that all costs mandated by the state be reimbursed to a local government entity. In certain circumstances, a unit cost based on a significant or large variation of costs reported may not reasonably represent the costs incurred by eligible claimants and, thus, may not comply with the requirements of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution. On the other hand, given the purpose of the RRM, to “balance accuracy with simplicity,” some degree of variation in costs will usually be permissible.

The reimbursement requirement is a constitutional imperative, but the Legislature has the power to enact statutes that provide “reasonable” regulation and control of rights granted under the Constitution.<sup>205</sup> The Commission must presume that the Government Code sections providing for the consideration and adoption of RRM's meet this standard and are constitutionally valid.<sup>206</sup> Section 17557(f) of the Government Code provides that the Commission, in adopting parameters and guidelines “shall consult with the Department of Finance, the affected state agency, the Controller, the fiscal and policy committees of the Assembly and Senate, the Legislative Analyst, and the claimants to consider a reasonable reimbursement methodology that balances accuracy with simplicity” [emphasis added].<sup>207</sup> Section 17518.5, as amended, provides for a high degree of flexibility in the adoption of an RRM. Therefore, the Commission must presume that an RRM may be adopted on the basis of any reasonable information that constitutes substantial evidence, and that an RRM that “balances accuracy with simplicity” in reimbursement is permissible under the statute, and thus, constitutional, even if individual claimants are not fully or precisely reimbursed for each activity in each fiscal year.

The Commission must apply Government Code section 17518.5 in a constitutional manner. If the Commission approves a unit cost that does not comply with the requirements of the applicable code sections and does not represent a reasonable approximation of costs incurred by eligible claimants to comply with the mandated program, then the Commission’s decision could be determined unconstitutional as applied to the case and determined invalid by the courts.<sup>208</sup>

b. The only statutory requirements of an adopted RRM are that it balances accuracy in reimbursement with simplicity in the claiming process, and that it considers the variation in costs among eligible claimants.

As alluded to above, the statutory requirements to adopt an RRM are minimal, and very broad. Government Code section 17518.5, as amended in 2007, eliminates both the prior rule that 50% of eligible claimants have their costs fully offset, and the rule that the total amount to be reimbursed under an RRM must be equal to the total statewide cost estimate. Given the “Concerns with the Mandates Process” described by the LAO, and to which the amendments were addressed, the new statute should be interpreted with an eye toward less stringent requirements for documentation of costs, and less burdensome measuring of the marginal costs of higher levels of service.<sup>209</sup> In other words, rather than providing rigid requirements or elements to which an RRM proposal for adoption must adhere, the amended statute focuses on the sources of information for the development of an RRM, and only requires that the end result “balances accuracy with simplicity.”<sup>210</sup> Section 1183.131 of the regulations provides that a proposed RRM “shall include any documentation or assumption relied upon to develop the proposed methodology.” The Commission’s regulations thus further support a view of the RRM statute (section 17518.5) as being focused on the information to be used, rather than any specific degree of precision or accuracy necessary.<sup>211</sup> Implicit, of course, is always the constitutional requirement that the end result must reasonably reimburse claimants for their mandated costs, as required by article XIII B, section 6. For these reasons, the Commission finds no statutory requirements or elements in sections 17518.5 and 17557, other than the requirements to balance accuracy with simplicity, and to consider the variation of costs among eligible claimants.

1. There is no statutory requirement that the adopted RRM be based on cost information from a representative sample of eligible claimants, and no minimum sample size required to be representative.

The statute provides that detailed, actual cost information is not required to develop an RRM. Section 17518.5 provides that an RRM “shall be based on cost information from a representative sample of eligible claimants, information provided by associations of local agencies and school districts, or other projections of other local costs.”<sup>212</sup> The statute does not require any one of these options; it merely outlines these as possible sources for the development of evidence to support an RRM. Neither does the statute provide for a minimum number of claimants to constitute a representative sample.

Here, the law enforcement surveys upon which the RRMs are based were responded to by twelve law enforcement agencies that together “serve over half the state’s population.”<sup>213</sup> The county welfare surveys were responded to by eight counties, serving “well over 50 percent of the State’s population.”<sup>214</sup> The law enforcement surveys were developed by the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department, in cooperation with the California State Association of Counties and the League of California Cities.<sup>215</sup> The county welfare department surveys were developed by “a core team of [Los Angeles] County staff, California Welfare Directors Association staff, and State Department of Social Services staff.

The Commission finds that section 17518.5 does not require that the adoption of the RRM be based on a representative sample of eligible claimants; “cost information from a representative sample of eligible claimants” is only one source of evidence upon which to base an RRM, along with “information provided by associations of local agencies and school districts, or other projections of local costs.”<sup>216</sup> Thus, whether the sample size, or the constitution of the sample, is representative should not be dispositive on the question whether an RRM may be adopted. The statutory standard does not demand a representative sample of eligible claimants in order to develop an RRM. Moreover, section 1183.13 of the Commission’s regulations provides that a “representative sample of claimants does not include eligible claimants that do not respond to surveys or otherwise participate in submitting cost data.”<sup>217</sup>

Here, the claimants have submitted survey results from local agencies who responded to the survey request, and who represent over half the state’s population. The Commission may find that this constitutes a representative sample, in accordance with the ordinary meanings of “representative” and “sample,” and with the definition found in the Commission’s regulations, if the survey results are supported by admissible evidence in the record.<sup>218</sup>

2. There is no statutory requirement that the RRM be based on detailed, actual cost data, nor audited cost data.

The statute provides that an RRM “[w]henver possible... shall be based on general allocation formulas, uniform cost allowances, and other approximations of local costs mandated by the state, rather than detailed documentation of actual costs.”<sup>219</sup>

As discussed above, the LAO recommendations that gave rise to the amendments to section 17518.5 were to expand the use of easy-to-administer reimbursement mechanisms. And, as discussed throughout this section, the amended text of section 17518.5 provides for flexibility in the development and adoption of RRMs. The section cannot reasonably be read to require audited cost data to develop an RRM, especially in the case that the RRM is proposed as a part of the first parameters and guidelines after a test claim decision, at which time no audited cost data yet exists. Moreover, there is no requirement that the RRM be based on cost data at all, where a uniform time allowance, or “standard times” RRM is proposed.

Here, the RRM proposal includes standard times RRMs for specified activities. The survey data upon which the RRMs are based does not require actual dollar amounts for the specified activities, but rather focuses on the time expended for those activities, and bases reimbursement on those standard times applied to an individual claimant’s “blended productive hourly rate, in accordance with long established State Controller’s Office Instructions.”<sup>220</sup> In this respect the RRMs are not based on “detailed documentation of actual costs,” but rather on a formula, based on survey data, or on what might be characterized as “other approximations.”<sup>221</sup>

A standard times RRM employed in this way could easily be characterized as a “general allocation formula...[or] other approximations of local costs,” and to the extent that it is based on time data rather than cost data, it is consistent with the minimal requirements of the statute.<sup>222</sup>

3. There is no statutory requirement that an RRM mitigate or eliminate cost variation among local government claimants.

Section 17518.5(c) provides that an RRM “shall consider the variation in costs among local agencies and school districts to implement the mandate in a cost-efficient manner.” The section does not require that an RRM address such variation, or that it mitigate or eliminate such variation.

Here, the claimant has proposed an RRM based on “standard times,” which are proposed to be applied to the “blended productive hourly rate” in order to calculate the amount of reimbursement for an individual claimant.<sup>223</sup> Although hourly rates of pay and benefits might vary from one county or city to another, it is not necessary to examine whether and to what extent that variation impacts the total costs of implementing the mandate, because the application of “standard times” to the hourly rates of personnel in different cities and counties will account for the variation, as long as the times themselves are defensible. In this way a standard times proposal does address, and arguably mitigates, any variation in costs among local government, to the extent that personnel costs constitute a significant variable.

As discussed above, the Commission in 2011 requested comments from a number of claimants and stakeholders on pending RRM proposals. One of the issues on which comments were sought was the meaning and import of the statutory language providing that an RRM “consider the variation in costs” among claimants “to implement the mandate in a cost-efficient manner.” The claimant responded to that issue, stating that “implementation of a mandate is cost-efficient if only reasonably necessary activities are performed and allowable costs incurred in the implementation of the mandate.”<sup>224</sup> The claimant then went on to excerpt several pages of discussion from the revised proposed parameters and guidelines submitted January 21, 2010.<sup>225</sup>

The Commission finds that section 17518.5(c) does not require that an RRM proposal address, mitigate, eliminate, or otherwise equalize variation in costs among local government, but that this proposal is structured in such a manner as to do so. The Commission finds that the data submitted, and the proposal based on those data, do “consider the variation,” as required, in order to arrive at the unit times proposed. The Commission finds further, that the claimant’s definition of “cost-efficient,” whether or not satisfied on this record, is not a complete and correct statement of the law and thus is not adopted.

4. Conclusion: section 17518.5 does not impose specific statutory requirements for the development and adoption of RRMs.

The Commission finds that the constitution requires that an RRM provide reimbursement reasonably in line with the reimbursable costs incurred by eligible claimants, but that the only statutory requirements for adoption of an RRM are: (1) that it balances accuracy with simplicity; and (2) that it considers variation in local costs. Detailed actual cost information is not required. Neither is cost information from a representative sample of eligible claimants required; nor audited data from multiple years of cost claims; nor an RRM proposal that addresses or mitigates variation in costs incurred among different districts. An RRM is meant to be based on an approximation of local costs, and need not necessarily precisely reimburse every dollar.

c. The Commission is not bound by strict evidence rules but must have substantial evidence in the record to support its decisions.

1. Substantial evidence standard for Commission proceedings

Government Code section 17559 requires that Commission decisions be based on substantial evidence in the record. Section 17559 allows a claimant or the state to petition for a writ of administrative mandamus under section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, “to set aside a decision of the commission on the ground that the commission’s decision is not supported by substantial evidence.”<sup>226</sup> Government Code section 17559 also expressly provides “that the trial court review the decision of the Commission under the substantial evidence standard.”<sup>227</sup>

A broad array of evidence can be relied upon to adopt an RRM, under the amended statute.<sup>228</sup> However, statutory enactments must be considered in the context of the entire statutory scheme of which they are a part and be harmonized with the statutory framework as a whole;<sup>229</sup> when the Legislature added section 17518.5 to the Government Code, it did not change the existing requirement in section 17559 that all of the Commission’s findings be based on substantial evidence in the record. In 2010, the Commission clarified its regulations to specifically identify the quasi-judicial matters that are subject to these evidentiary rules, including proposed parameters and guidelines and requests to amend parameters and guidelines.<sup>230</sup> Thus, the plain language of the statutory and regulatory mandates scheme requires substantial evidence in the record to support the adoption of an RRM.

2. Evidence rules for Commission proceedings.

The Commission is not required to observe strict evidentiary rules, but its decisions must be reasonable, and grounded in fairness. The courts have interpreted the evidentiary requirement for administrative proceedings as follows:

While administrative bodies are not expected to observe meticulously all of the rules of evidence applicable to a court trial, common sense and fair play dictate certain basic requirements for the conduct of any hearing at which facts are to be determined. Among these are the following: the evidence must be produced at the hearing by witnesses personally present, or by authenticated documents, maps or photographs; ordinarily, hearsay evidence standing alone can have no weight, and this would apply to hearsay evidence concerning someone else's opinion; furthermore, cross-examination within reasonable limits must be allowed. Telephone calls to one of the officials sitting in the case, statements made in letters and arguments made in petitions should not be considered as evidence.<sup>231</sup>

Section 1187.5(a) of the Commission's regulations provides that when exercising the quasi-judicial functions of the Commission, "[a]ny relevant non-repetitive evidence shall be admitted if it is the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely in the conduct of serious affairs."<sup>232</sup> This regulation is borrowed from the evidentiary requirements of the Administrative Procedures Act, which contains substantially the same language.<sup>233</sup> Both the Commission's regulations, and the Government Code, provide that hearsay evidence is admissible if it is inherently reliable, but will not be sufficient in itself to support a finding unless the evidence would be admissible over objection in a civil case; in other words, unless one of several hearsay exceptions applies.<sup>234</sup>

Section 1187.5(d) provides for the admission of evidence and exhibits, and questioning of opposing witnesses, and states that "[i]f declarations are to be used in lieu of testimony, the party proposing to use the declarations shall comply with Government Code section 11514.”<sup>235</sup> Government Code section 11514, in turn, provides:

(a) At any time 10 or more days prior to a hearing or a continued hearing, any party may mail or deliver to the opposing party a copy of any affidavit which he proposes to introduce in evidence, together with a notice as provided in subdivision (b). Unless the opposing party, within seven days after such mailing or delivery, mails or delivers to the proponent a request to cross-examine an affiant, his right to cross-examine such affiant is waived and the affidavit, if introduced in evidence, shall be given the same effect as if the affiant had testified orally. If an opportunity to cross-examine an affiant is not afforded after request therefor is made as herein provided, the affidavit may be introduced in evidence, but shall be given only the same effect as other hearsay evidence.<sup>236</sup>

Note that the Commission’s regulations use the word “declaration,” and the Government Code refers to an “affidavit.” An affidavit, by definition, if it is to be used before a court, must “be taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths,” usually a judge.<sup>237</sup> But under the Code of Civil Procedure, section 2015.5, a declaration made under penalty of perjury is given the same force and effect as an affidavit sworn before an authorized officer. Such declaration must be in writing, must be “subscribed by him or her,” and must name the date and place of execution.<sup>238</sup>

Where a witness is testifying as an expert, opinion testimony is permitted where the subject is “sufficiently beyond common experience that the opinion of an expert would assist the trier of fact,” and based on matter, including the expert’s experience or training, “whether or not admissible, that is of a type that reasonably may be relied upon by an expert in forming an opinion upon the subject to which his testimony relates.”<sup>239</sup> Opinion testimony is otherwise generally disfavored.<sup>240</sup> Before a court accepts expert opinion evidence, however, an expert must be qualified, pursuant to section 720 of the Evidence Code, which provides:

(a) A person is qualified to testify as an expert if he has special knowledge, skill, expertise, training, or education sufficient to qualify him as an expert on the subject to which his testimony relates. Against the objection of a party, such special knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education must be shown before the witness may testify as an expert.

(b) A witness' special knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education may be shown by any otherwise admissible evidence, including his own testimony.<sup>241</sup>

The California Supreme Court has held that an expert witness is qualified “if his peculiar skill, training, or experience enable him to form opinion that would be useful to the jury.”<sup>242</sup> And in order to lay the foundation to introduce expert testimony, “[it is] the province of the court to determine, from the examination as to the witness' qualifications, whether he [is] competent to testify as an expert.”<sup>243</sup> An expert's testimony is intended to make complicated facts or information more understandable to the fact finder, and in so doing may rely on any information, including that which is not admissible in itself, but may not make legal conclusions.<sup>244</sup>

Therefore, in keeping with the applicable evidentiary standards provided by the statutes and regulations, and in an attempt to harmonize the case law with the clear import of statute and regulation, the following standards emerge: the Commission's decisions must be supported by “substantial evidence” under section 17559, but the conduct of hearings need not adhere to strict evidence rules pursuant to section 1187.5 of the Commission's regulations and Government Code section 11513(c); any relevant non-repetitive evidence shall be admitted if it is the sort of evidence on which responsible persons are accustomed to rely; hearsay evidence may be used to supplement or explain, although it shall not be sufficient to support a finding unless admissible over objection in civil actions.<sup>245</sup> Under section 11514, as referenced in the Commission's regulations, an affidavit or declaration may be “given the same effect as if the affiant had testified orally,” if properly noticed and an opportunity to cross-examine the affiant is given.<sup>246</sup> Expert testimony, in the form of an affidavit, would be admissible if the Commission finds a witness qualified by special skill or training, and the testimony (here, declaration) is helpful to the Commission.<sup>247</sup> Furthermore, surveys of eligible claimants as a method of gathering cost data are contemplated by the statute and the regulations as a viable form of evidence, but they must be admissible under the Commission's regulations and the evidence rules, as discussed.<sup>248</sup>

1. The evidence in the record does not support the law enforcement standard times RRM.

Based on the record here, the Commission does not have substantial evidence upon which to base a decision to adopt the standard times RRM proposed for law enforcement.

The declarations of Suzie Ferrell and Daniel Scott state that the law enforcement surveys were developed on the basis of the investigative activities necessary to complete the ICAN mandated activities, and that the activities included in the surveys are “reasonably necessary in conducting ICAN investigations, preparing ICAN reports, and performing other ICAN required duties.”<sup>251</sup> The Ferrell declaration also states that “it is my information and belief that the average or standard time for each ICAN step...is based on a representative sample of law enforcement agencies.”

As discussed above with respect to reimbursable activities, these proposed RRM, if supported with substantial evidence, could be only partially approved, despite the assertions of Mr. Scott and Ms. Ferrell, because the activities underpinning the proposed RRM exceed the scope of the mandate, and the scope of what is reimbursable under article XIII B, section 6. Notwithstanding their information and belief that the steps described in the law enforcement RRM's are necessary to complete ICAN investigations, the activities beyond investigation by patrol officers for purposes of preparing the report required by section 11169, as discussed, are not reimbursable, because those activities exceed the scope of what was approved in the test claim statement of decision; they exceed the scope of what is reasonably necessary to carry out the mandate (i.e., to determine whether a report is unfounded); and they exceed the scope of what is reimbursable under article XIII B, section 6 and Government Code section 17556.<sup>252</sup>

Along with the declarations described above, the claimant has submitted summary survey results for the law enforcement activities that the claimant seeks to include in the law enforcement RRM's. Those summary survey results describe how much time should be assigned to each step in the investigation for law enforcement agencies. As discussed above, the reimbursement of those activities must be limited, at maximum, to the degree of activity required for the propose of completion of the Form 8583. Anything more, as analyzed above, would provide reimbursement for the costs of mandated reporter activities, or a criminal investigation; and to reimburse law enforcement agencies for activities beyond those approved for county welfare departments: these are not reimbursable activities. Nowhere in the claimant's submissions are the actual raw data found, nor any spreadsheets or other summaries that detail how the standard times RRM's were calculated, so these non-reimbursable activities cannot be separated out, nor can it be determined whether there is substantial evidence to support the costs claimed. Therefore the RRM's, based upon inadmissible hearsay, are not supported by the evidence in the record and cannot be approved by the Commission, consistent with the substantial evidence standard required for Commission decisions.

Given that the Commission has no evidence other than the conclusory declarations of the claimant and the claimant's representatives and staff, the law enforcement RRM's are denied.

2. The evidence in the record does not support the county welfare department standard times RRM's.

Based on the record here, the Commission does not have substantial evidence upon which to base a decision to adopt the standard times RRM's proposed for county welfare departments.

As discussed above, some of the activities proposed for reimbursement in the county welfare departments' standard times RRM's are not adequately tied to approved reimbursable activities.

Moreover, just as with the law enforcement standard times proposed, the claimant has submitted only summary survey results for county welfare departments' activities, along with the survey questions distributed to eligible claimants.<sup>253</sup> As discussed above, the surveys were returned by eight eligible claimants, representing, according to the claimant's evidence, more than fifty percent of the state's population. But nowhere in the claimant's submissions is there any evidence of the raw data returned. Only the conclusions are stated, in the form of standard times calculated by the claimant. This evidence is hearsay, and is not sufficient in itself to support the Commission's decision to approve the proposed RRM's.

Based on the foregoing, proposed RRM's for county welfare departments are denied.

V. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons the Commission hereby adopts the attached proposed parameters and guidelines, providing for actual cost reimbursement of the activities approved in the test claim statement of decision and the reasonably necessary activities, as analyzed above.

I. SUMMARY OF THE MANDATE

This program addresses statutory amendments to California’s mandatory child abuse reporting laws commonly referred to as ICAN. A child abuse reporting law was first added to the Penal Code in 1963, and initially required medical professionals to report suspected child abuse to local law enforcement or child welfare authorities. The law was regularly expanded to include more professions required to report suspected child abuse (now termed “mandated reporters”), and in 1980, California reenacted and amended the law, entitling it the “Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act,” or CANRA. As part of this program, the Department of Justice (DOJ) maintains a Child Abuse Centralized Index, which, since 1965, maintains reports of child abuse statewide. A number of changes to the law have occurred, particularly with a reenactment in 1980, and substantive amendments in 1997 and 2000.

The act, as amended, provides for reporting of suspected child abuse or neglect by certain individuals, identified by their profession as having frequent contact with children. The act provides rules and procedures for local agencies, including law enforcement, receiving such reports. The act provides for cross-reporting among law enforcement and other child protective agencies, and to licensing agencies and district attorneys’ offices. The act requires reporting to the DOJ when a report of suspected child abuse is “not unfounded.” The act requires an active investigation before a report can be forwarded to the DOJ. As of January 1, 2012, the act no longer requires law enforcement agencies to report to the DOJ, and now requires reporting only of “substantiated” reports by other agencies. The act imposes additional cross-reporting and recordkeeping duties in the event of a child’s death from abuse or neglect. The act requires agencies and the DOJ to keep records of investigations for a minimum of 10 years, and to notify suspected child abusers that they have been listed in the Child Abuse Central Index. The act imposes certain due process protections owed to persons listed in the index, and provides certain other situations in which a person would be notified of his or her listing in the index.

On December 19, 2007, the Commission on State Mandates (Commission) adopted a statement of decision finding that the test claim statutes impose a partially reimbursable state-mandated program upon local agencies within the meaning of article XIII B, section 6 of the California Constitution and Government Code section 17514. The Commission approved this test claim for the reimbursable activities described in section IV., as they are performed by city and county police or sheriff's departments, county welfare departments, county probation departments designated by the county to receive mandated reports, district attorneys' offices, and county licensing agencies.

II. ELIGIBLE CLAIMANTS

Any city, county, and city and county that incurs increased costs as a result of this mandate is eligible to claim reimbursement.

III. PERIOD OF REIMBURSEMENT

Government Code section 17557(e) states that a test claim shall be submitted on or before June 30 following a given fiscal year to establish eligibility for that fiscal year. The County of Los Angeles filed the test claim on June 29, 2001, establishing eligibility for reimbursement for the 1999-2000 fiscal year. Therefore, costs incurred on or after July 1, 1999 are reimbursable under this test claim, for statutes in effect before July 1, 1999, or later periods as specified for statutes effective after July 1, 1999.

However, Penal Code section 11169 was amended in Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717), effective January 1, 2012, to repeal the mandate for law enforcement agencies to report to DOJ, and to require that all other affected departments in the local agencies report to DOJ only "substantiated" reports of suspected child abuse, and not "inconclusive" reports. Thus, law enforcement agencies are eligible for reimbursement for the costs of completing investigations of suspected child abuse in order to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse is unfounded, inconclusive, or substantiated, for the purpose of forwarding those reports to DOJ from July 1, 1999 until December 31, 2011, when the mandate was repealed. In addition, law enforcement agencies are eligible for reimbursement for the costs of notifying suspected abusers that they have been listed in the Child Abuse Central Index at the time that a report is submitted to DOJ from July 1, 1999 until December 31, 2011, when the mandate to forward reports to DOJ was repealed.

For all other affected departments in the local agencies, the reimbursement period for forwarding reports that are "inconclusive" to DOJ is from July 1, 1999 until December 31, 2011, due to a subsequent change in Penal Code section 11169 by Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717). On and after January 1, 2012, only forwarding reports to DOJ that are "substantiated" is reimbursable.

Reimbursement for state-mandated costs may be claimed as follows:

1. Actual costs for one fiscal year shall be included in each claim.
2. Pursuant to Government Code section 17561(d)(1)(A), all claims for reimbursement of initial fiscal year costs shall be submitted to the State Controller within 120 days of the issuance date for the claiming instructions.

3. Pursuant to Government Code section 17560(a), a local agency may, by February 15 following the fiscal year in which costs were incurred, file an annual reimbursement claim that details the costs actually incurred for that fiscal year.
4. If revised claiming instructions are issued by the Controller pursuant to Government Code section 17558(c), between November 15 and February 15, a local agency filing an annual reimbursement claim shall have 120 days following the issuance date of the revised claiming instructions to file a claim. (Government Code section 17560(b).)
5. If the total costs for a given fiscal year do not exceed $1,000, no reimbursement shall be allowed except as otherwise allowed by Government Code section 17564(a).
6. There shall be no reimbursement for any period in which the Legislature has suspended the operation of a mandate pursuant to state law.

IV. REIMBURSABLE ACTIVITIES

To be eligible for mandated cost reimbursement for any fiscal year, only actual costs may be claimed.

Actual costs are those costs actually incurred to implement the mandated activities. Actual costs must be traceable and supported by source documents that show the validity of such costs, when they were incurred, and their relationship to the reimbursable activities. A source document is a document created at or near the same time the actual cost was incurred for the event or activity in question. Source documents may include, but are not limited to, employee time records or time logs, sign-in sheets, invoices, and receipts.

Evidence corroborating the source documents may include, but is not limited to, worksheets, cost allocation reports (system generated), purchase orders, contracts, agendas, training packets, and declarations. Declarations must include a certification or declaration stating, "I certify (or declare) under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of California that the foregoing is true and correct," and must further comply with the requirements of Code of Civil Procedure section 2015.5. Evidence corroborating the source documents may include data relevant to the reimbursable activities otherwise in compliance with local, state, and federal government requirements. However, corroborating documents cannot be substituted for source documents.

Claimants may use time studies to support salary and benefit costs when an activity is task-repetitive. Activities that require varying levels of effort are not appropriate for time studies. Claimants wishing to use time studies to support salary and benefit costs are required to comply with the State Controller's Time-Study Guidelines before a time study is conducted. Time study usage is subject to the review and audit conducted by the State Controller's Office.

The claimant is only allowed to claim and be reimbursed for increased costs for reimbursable activities identified below. Increased cost is limited to the cost of an activity that the claimant is required to incur as a result of the mandate.

For each eligible claimant that incurs increased costs, the following activities are reimbursable:

A. One-Time Activities

1. Policies and Procedures

City and county police or sheriff’s departments, county welfare departments, and county probation departments where designated by the county to receive mandated reports, may claim reimbursement for the increased costs to:

- a. Update Departmental policies and procedures necessary to comply with the reimbursable activities identified in IV B.
- b. Develop ICAN due process procedures reasonably necessary to comply with federal due process procedural protections under the 14th Amendment which need to be afforded suspects reported to the DOJ's Child Abuse Central Index [CACI].

B. On-going Activities

1. Distributing the Suspected Child Abuse Report Form

City and county police or sheriff’s departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:

- a. Distribute the child abuse reporting form adopted by DOJ (currently known as the “Suspected Child Abuse Report” Form SS 8572) to mandated reporters.<sup>1</sup>

2. Reporting Between Local Departments

- a. Accepting and Referring Initial Child Abuse Reports when a Department Lacks Jurisdiction:

City and county police or sheriff’s departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:

Transfer a call electronically or immediately refer the case by telephone, fax, or electronic transmission, to an agency with proper jurisdiction, whenever the department lacks subject matter or geographical jurisdiction over an incoming report of suspected child abuse or neglect.<sup>2</sup>

- b. Cross-Reporting of Suspected Child Abuse or Neglect from County Welfare and Probation Departments to the Law Enforcement Agency with Jurisdiction and the District Attorney’s Office:

- 1) County probation departments shall:
  - i. Report by telephone immediately, or as soon as practically possible, to the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the case, to the agency given the responsibility for investigation of cases under Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to the district attorney’s office every known or suspected instance of child abuse, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.6, except acts or omissions coming within subdivision (b) of section 11165.2, or reports made pursuant to section 11165.13 based on risk to a child which relates solely to the inability of the parent to provide the child with regular care due to the parent's substance abuse, which shall be reported only to the county welfare department.

- ii. Send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident to any agency to which it is required to make a telephone report under Penal Code section 11166.

As of January 1, 2001, initial reports may be made by fax or electronic transmission, instead of by telephone, and will satisfy the requirement for a written report within 36 hours.<sup>3</sup>

2) County welfare departments shall:

- i. Report by telephone immediately, or as soon as practically possible, to the agency given the responsibility for investigation of cases under Section 300 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and to the district attorney's office every known or suspected instance of child abuse, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.6, except acts or omissions coming within subdivision (b) of section 11165.2, or reports made pursuant to section 11165.13 based on risk to a child which relates solely to the inability of the parent to provide the child with regular care due to the parent's substance abuse, which shall be reported only to the county welfare department.

Reimbursement is not required for making an initial report of child abuse and neglect from a county welfare department to the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the case, which was required under prior law to be made "without delay."

- ii. Send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident to any agency, including the law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the case, to which it is required to make a telephone report under Penal Code section 11166.

As of January 1, 2001, initial reports may be made by fax or electronic transmission, instead of by telephone, and will satisfy the requirement for a written report within 36 hours.<sup>4</sup>

City and county police or sheriff's departments shall:

- 1) Report by telephone immediately, or as soon as practically possible, to the agency given responsibility for investigation of cases under Welfare and Institutions Code section 300 and to the district attorney's office every known or suspected instance of child abuse reported to it, except acts or omissions coming within Penal Code section 11165.2(b), which shall be reported only to the county welfare department.<sup>5</sup>
- 2) Report to the county welfare department every known or suspected instance of child abuse reported to it which is alleged to have occurred as a result of the action of a person responsible for the child's welfare, or as the result of the failure of a person responsible for the child's welfare to adequately protect the minor from abuse when the person responsible for the child's welfare knew or reasonably should have known that the minor was in danger of abuse.
- 3) Send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident to any agency to which it is required to make a telephone report under Penal Code section 11166.

As of January 1, 2006, initial reports may be made by fax or electronic transmission, instead of by telephone, and will satisfy the requirement for a written report within 36 hours.<sup>6</sup>

d. Receipt of Cross-Reports by District Attorney's Office:

District attorneys' offices shall:

e. Reporting to Licensing Agencies:

City and county police or sheriff's departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:

- 1) Report by telephone immediately or as soon as practically possible to the appropriate licensing agency every known or suspected instance of child abuse or neglect when the instance of abuse or neglect occurs while the child is being cared for in a child day care facility, involves a child day care licensed staff person, or occurs while the child is under the supervision of a community care facility or involves a community care facility licensee or staff person.
- 2) Send a written report thereof within 36 hours of receiving the information concerning the incident to any agency to which it is required to make a telephone report under Penal Code section 11166.2. ### 3. Reporting to the State Department of Justice

- a. From July 1, 1999 to December 31, 2011, city and county police or sheriff's departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:<sup>13</sup>

- 1) Complete an investigation for purposes of preparing the report

Complete an investigation to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing and submitting the state "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice.<sup>14</sup> Except as provided in paragraph below, this activity includes review of the initial Suspected Child Abuse Report (Form 8572), and dispatching an employee to conduct initial interviews with parents, victims, suspects, or witnesses, where applicable.

Reimbursement is not required in the following circumstances:

- i. Investigative activities conducted by a mandated reporter to complete the Suspected Child Abuse Report (Form SS 8572) pursuant to Penal Code section 11166(a).
- ii. In the event that the mandated reporter is employed by the same child protective agency required to investigate and submit the "Child Abuse Investigation Report" Form SS 8583 or subsequent designated form to the Department of Justice, pursuant to Penal Code section 11169(a), reimbursement is not required if the investigation required to complete the Form SS 8572 is also sufficient to make the determination required under section 11169(a), and sufficient to complete the essential information items required on the Form SS 8583, pursuant to Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 (Register 98, No. 29).
- iii. Investigative activities undertaken subsequent to the determination whether a report of suspected child abuse is substantiated, inconclusive, or unfounded, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing the Form SS 8583, including the collection of physical evidence, the referral to a detective, the conduct of follow-up interviews, and the potential making of an arrest.

<sup>13</sup> Pursuant to amendments to Penal Code section 11169(b) enacted by Statutes 2011, chapter 468 (AB 717), the mandate to report to DOJ for law enforcement agencies only ends on January 1, 2012. In addition, the duty for all other affected agencies is modified to exclude an "inconclusive" report.

2) Forward reports to the Department of Justice

Prepare and submit to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect which is determined to be substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12. Unfounded reports, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, shall not be filed with the Department of Justice. If a report has previously been filed which subsequently proves to be unfounded, the Department of Justice shall be notified in writing of that fact. The reports required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice (currently form 8583) and may be sent by fax or electronic transmission.<sup>15</sup>

This activity includes costs of preparing and submitting an amended report to DOJ, when the submitting agency changes a prior finding of substantiated or inconclusive to a finding of unfounded or from inconclusive or unfounded to substantiated.

Reimbursement is not required for the costs of the investigation required to make the determination to file an amended report.

b. Beginning January 1, 2012, county welfare departments, or county probation departments where designated by the county to receive mandated reports shall:

1) Complete an investigation

Complete an investigation to determine whether a report of suspected child abuse or severe neglect is unfounded, substantiated or inconclusive, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing and submitting the state “Child Abuse Investigation Report” Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice.<sup>16</sup> Except as provided in paragraph below, this activity includes review of the initial Suspected Child Abuse Report (Form 8572), and dispatching an employee to conduct initial interviews with parents, victims, suspects, or witnesses, where applicable.

Reimbursement is not required in the following circumstances:

i. Investigative activities conducted by a mandated reporter to complete the Suspected Child Abuse Report (Form SS 8572) pursuant to Penal Code section 11166(a).

- ii. In the event that the mandated reporter is employed by the same child protective agency required to investigate and submit the “Child Abuse Investigation Report” Form SS 8583, or subsequent designated form, to the Department of Justice, pursuant to Penal Code section 11169(a), reimbursement is not required if the investigation required to complete the Form SS 8572 is also sufficient to make the determination required under section 11169(a), and sufficient to complete the essential information items required on the Form SS 8583, pursuant to Code of Regulations, title 11, section 903 (Register 98, No. 29).
  - iii. Investigative activities undertaken subsequent to the determination whether a report of suspected child abuse is substantiated, inconclusive, or unfounded, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, for purposes of preparing the Form SS 8583, including the collection of physical evidence, the referral to a detective, the conduct of follow-up interviews, and the potential making of an arrest.
- 2) Forward reports to the Department of Justice

Prepare and submit to the Department of Justice a report in writing of every case it investigates of known or suspected child abuse or severe neglect which is determined to be substantiated, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12. Unfounded or inconclusive reports, as defined in Penal Code section 11165.12, shall not be filed with the Department of Justice. If a report has previously been filed which subsequently proves to be unfounded, the Department of Justice shall be notified in writing of that fact. The reports required by this section shall be in a form approved by the Department of Justice and may be sent by fax or electronic transmission.<sup>17</sup>

This activity includes costs of preparing and submitting an amended report to DOJ, when the submitting agency changes a prior finding of substantiated to a finding of inconclusive or unfounded, or from inconclusive or unfounded to substantiated, or when other information is necessary to maintain accuracy of the CACI.

Reimbursement is not required for the costs of the investigation required to make the determination to file an amended report.

4. Notifications Following Reports to the Child Abuse Central Index

- a. City and county police or sheriff’s departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:

- b. City and county police or sheriff's departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, county welfare departments, county licensing agencies, and district attorney offices shall:

Obtain the original investigative report from the agency that submitted the information to the CACI pursuant to Penal Code section 11169(a), and objectively review the report, when information regarding an individual suspected of child abuse or neglect, or an instance of suspected child abuse or neglect, is received from the CACI while performing existing duties pertaining to criminal investigation or prosecution, or licensing, or placement of a child.<sup>22</sup>

Reimbursement for this activity does not include investigative activities conducted by the agency, either prior to or subsequent to receipt of the information that necessitates obtaining and reviewing the investigative report.

- c. City and county police or sheriff's departments, county probation departments, and county welfare departments shall:

Notify, in writing, the person listed in the Child Abuse Central Index that he or she is in the index, upon receipt of relevant information concerning child abuse or neglect reports contained in the index from the Department of Justice regarding placement with a responsible relative pursuant to Welfare and Institutions Code sections 281.5, 305, and 361.3. The notification shall include the location of the original investigative report and the submitting agency. The notification shall be submitted to the person listed at the same time that all other parties are notified of the information, and no later than the actual judicial proceeding that determines placement.<sup>23</sup>

5. Record Retention

- a. City and county police or sheriff's departments, and county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports shall:

Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of eight years (a higher level of service above the two-year record retention requirement pursuant to Gov. Code §§ 26202 (cities) and 34090 (counties).) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is

This activity includes retaining copies of the Suspected Child Abuse Report form SS 8572, received from a mandated reporter, and the Child Abuse Summary Report form SS 8583, with the original investigative report.

Reimbursement is not required for the first two years of record retention required under prior law, but only for the eight years following.

b. County welfare departments shall:

Retain child abuse or neglect investigative reports that result in a report filed with the Department of Justice for a minimum of seven years (a higher level of service above the three-year record retention requirement pursuant to Welf. & Inst. Code, § 10851.) If a subsequent report on the same suspected child abuser is received within the first 10-year period, the report shall be maintained for an additional 10 years.<sup>25</sup>

This activity includes retaining copies of the Suspected Child Abuse Report form SS 8572, received from a mandated reporter, and the Child Abuse Summary Report form SS 8583, with the original investigative report.

Reimbursement is not required for the first three years of record retention required under prior law, but only for the seven years following.

6. Due Process Procedures Offered to Person Listed in CACI

City and county police or sheriff's departments, county probation departments if designated by the county to receive mandated reports, and county welfare departments shall:

Provide due process reasonably necessary to comply with federal due process procedural protections under the 14th Amendment that must be afforded to individuals reported to the DOJ's Child Abuse Central Index. This activity includes a hearing before the agency that submitted the individual's name to CACI. This activity includes any due process procedures available to persons listed in the CACI prior to the enactment of Statutes 2011, chapter 468.

Reimbursement is not required for a hearing meeting the requirements of due process if a court of competent jurisdiction has determined that child abuse has occurred, or while the allegation is pending before a court.<sup>26</sup>

V. CLAIM PREPARATION AND SUBMISSION

Each of the following cost elements must be identified for each reimbursable activity identified in Section IV, Reimbursable Activities, of this document. Each claimed reimbursable cost must be supported by source documentation as described in Section IV. Additionally, each reimbursement claim must be filed in a timely manner.

A. Direct Cost Reporting

Direct costs are those costs incurred specifically for the reimbursable activities. The following direct costs are eligible for reimbursement.

1. Salaries and Benefits

Report each employee implementing the reimbursable activities by name, job classification, and productive hourly rate (total wages and related benefits divided by productive hours). Describe the specific reimbursable activities performed and the hours devoted to each reimbursable activity performed.

2. Materials and Supplies

Report the cost of materials and supplies that have been consumed or expended for the purpose of the reimbursable activities. Purchases shall be claimed at the actual price after deducting discounts, rebates, and allowances received by the claimant. Supplies that are withdrawn from inventory shall be charged on an appropriate and recognized method of costing, consistently applied.

3. Contracted Services

Report the name of the contractor and services performed to implement the reimbursable activities. If the contractor bills for time and materials, report the number of hours spent on the activities and all costs charged. If the contract is a fixed price, report the services that were performed during the period covered by the reimbursement claim. If the contract services are also used for purposes other than the reimbursable activities, only the pro-rata portion of the services used to implement the reimbursable activities can be claimed. Submit contract consultant and attorney invoices with the claim and a description of the contract scope of services.

4. Fixed Assets

Report the purchase price paid for fixed assets (including computers) necessary to implement the reimbursable activities. The purchase price includes taxes, delivery costs, and installation costs. If the fixed asset is also used for purposes other than the reimbursable activities, only the pro-rata portion of the purchase price used to implement the reimbursable activities can be claimed.

5. Travel

Report the name of the employee traveling for the purpose of the reimbursable activities. Include the date of travel, destination, the specific reimbursable activity requiring travel, and related travel expenses reimbursed to the employee in compliance with the rules of the local jurisdiction. Report employee travel time according to the rules of cost element A.1., Salaries and Benefits, for each applicable reimbursable activity.

B. Indirect Cost Rates

Indirect costs are costs that are incurred for a common or joint purpose, benefiting more than one program, and are not directly assignable to a particular department or program without efforts disproportionate to the result achieved. Indirect costs may include both: (1) overhead costs of the unit performing the mandate; and (2) the costs of the central government services distributed to the other departments based on a systematic and rational basis through a cost allocation plan.

Compensation for indirect costs is eligible for reimbursement utilizing the procedure provided in 2 CFR Part 225 (Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-87). Claimants have the option of using 10% of direct labor, excluding fringe benefits, or preparing an Indirect Cost Rate Proposal (ICRP) if the indirect cost rate claimed exceeds 10%.

If the claimant chooses to prepare an ICRP, both the direct costs (as defined and described in 2 CFR Part 225, Appendix A and B (OMB Circular A-87 Attachments A and B) and the indirect costs shall exclude capital expenditures and unallowable costs (as defined and described in 2 CFR Part 225, Appendix A and B (OMB Circular A-87 Attachments A and B)). However, unallowable costs must be included in the direct costs if they represent activities to which indirect costs are properly allocable. The distribution base may be: (1) total direct costs (excluding capital expenditures and other distorting items, such as pass-through funds, major subcontracts, etc.); (2) direct salaries and wages; or (3) another base which results in an equitable distribution.

In calculating an ICRP, the claimant shall have the choice of one of the following methodologies:

1. The allocation of allowable indirect costs (as defined and described in OMB Circular A-87 Attachments A and B) shall be accomplished by: (1) classifying a department's total costs for the base period as either direct or indirect; and (2) dividing the total allowable indirect costs (net of applicable credits) by an equitable distribution base. The result of this process is an indirect cost rate which is used to distribute indirect costs to mandates. The rate should be expressed as a percentage which the total amount of allowable indirect costs bears to the base selected; or
2. The allocation of allowable indirect costs (as defined and described in OMB Circular A-87 Attachments A and B) shall be accomplished by: (1) separating a department into groups, such as divisions or sections, and then classifying the division's or section's total costs for the base period as either direct or indirect; and (2) dividing the total allowable indirect costs (net of applicable credits) by an equitable distribution base. The result of this process is an indirect cost rate that is used to distribute indirect costs to mandates. The rate should be expressed as a percentage which the total amount of allowable indirect costs bears to the base selected.

VI. RECORD RETENTION

Pursuant to Government Code section 17558.5(a), a reimbursement claim for actual costs filed by a local agency or school district pursuant to this chapter<sup>27</sup> is subject to the initiation of an audit by the Controller no later than three years after the date that the actual reimbursement claim is filed or last amended, whichever is later. However, if no funds are appropriated or no payment is made to a claimant for the program for the fiscal year for which the claim is filed, the time for the Controller to initiate an audit shall commence to run from the date of initial payment of the claim. In any case, an audit shall be completed not later than two years after the date that the audit is commenced. All documents used to support the reimbursable activities, as described in Section IV., must be retained during the period subject to audit. If an audit has been initiated by the Controller during the period subject to audit, the retention period is extended until the ultimate resolution of any audit findings.

VII. OFFSETTING REVENUES AND REIMBURSEMENTS

Any offsetting revenue the claimant experiences in the same program as a result of the same statutes or executive orders found to contain the mandate shall be deducted from the costs claimed. In addition, reimbursement for this mandate from any source, including but not limited to, service fees collected, federal funds, and other state funds, shall be identified and deducted from this claim.

VIII. STATE CONTROLLER'S CLAIMING INSTRUCTIONS

Pursuant to Government Code section 17558(b), the Controller shall issue claiming instructions for each mandate that requires state reimbursement not later than 90 days after receiving the adopted parameters and guidelines from the Commission, to assist local agencies and school districts in claiming costs to be reimbursed. The claiming instructions shall be derived from the test claim decision and the parameters and guidelines adopted by the Commission.

Pursuant to Government Code section 17561(d)(1), issuance of the claiming instructions shall constitute a notice of the right of the local agencies and school districts to file reimbursement claims, based upon parameters and guidelines adopted by the Commission.

IX. REMEDIES BEFORE THE COMMISSION

Upon request of a local agency or school district, the Commission shall review the claiming instructions issued by the State Controller or any other authorized state agency for reimbursement of mandated costs pursuant to Government Code section 17571. If the Commission determines that the claiming instructions do not conform to the parameters and guidelines, the Commission shall direct the Controller to modify the claiming instructions and the Controller shall modify the claiming instructions to conform to the parameters and guidelines as directed by the Commission.

In addition, requests may be made to amend parameters and guidelines pursuant to Government Code section 17557(d), and California Code of Regulations, title 2, section 1183.2.

X. LEGAL AND FACTUAL BASIS FOR THE PARAMETERS AND GUIDELINES

The statements of decision adopted for the test claim and parameters and guidelines are legally binding on all parties and provide the legal and factual basis for the parameters and guidelines. The support for the legal and factual findings is found in the administrative record. The administrative record is on file with the Commission.
